Learn how you could have your new house built by Herkimer BOCES students

HERKIMER — You could have a new home built for you by local high-school students if you win a lottery from the Herkimer-Fulton-Hamilton-Otsego BOCES building construction program.

Every year since 1982, students in the Herkimer BOCES Building Construction program put together a house that is delivered to residents to live in. The homeowner pays the cost of materials and transportation of the house, but the labor is provided for free by high-school juniors and seniors under the supervision of Building Construction instructor John Martin.

If you're interested in receiving the house, attend an informational meeting at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, May 8, in the Building Construction classroom at the Herkimer BOCES William E. Busacker Complex, 352 Gros Blvd. in Herkimer.

At the meeting, information discussed will include procedures, house styles, the purchasing of materials, the construction date, criteria for applying, moving the house and other owners' responsibilities.

A lottery drawing will be scheduled for a couple of weeks after the meeting to determine who is selected as the recipient of the 37th house built by the program. If multiple people apply and attend the lottery, runners-up can be selected for subsequent years.

The house, which will be on about 1,500-square-foot, one-story ranch, could be delivered to many locations in and surrounding the Herkimer BOCES region. Previous houses have gone as far from Herkimer BOCES as the Thousand Islands, Lake George and south of Cooperstown.

The house will be constructed during the 2018-2019 school year — starting in September 2018 with completion by June 2019.

After a client is selected, meetings will be scheduled with the future homeowner to discuss the floor plan and the basic design of the house. The design must meet approval of the Building Construction program curriculum. It must be a single story and can have up to three bedrooms and two bathrooms. The dimensions are 26.5 feet by 58 feet.

For information, contact Herkimer BOCES Building Construction instructor John Martin at 315.867.2600 or jmartin@herkimer-boces.org.

An informational meeting about how to have a house built for you with free labor by Herkimer-Fulton-Hamilton-Otsego BOCES Building Construction students is scheduled for 6 p.m. on Tuesday, May 8, in the Building Construction classroom at the Herkimer BOCES William E. Busacker Complex, 352 Gros Blvd. in Herkimer. Pictured here is the house Building Construction students built in the 2012-2013 school year after it was delivered to Ilion.

Those old horse pistols

When I was very young I became interested in hearing grandfathers tell about their grandfathers serving in the militia of our state. When asking if they had any things mili- tary from long ago, these old men's memories went back into the 1800's when all able-bodied males had to belong to a

A receipt for all the necessary items to be an officer in the militia proves that reaching the higher rank was a very expensive endeavour.

The horse pistol was terrible at hitting its mark but was a sign of higher rank in the militia.

militia unit. When I look back in conversations they would go about like this: "I have one or a pair or horse pistols and a sword Grandpa had in general training." There would be certain days the men of the unit would gather together to do some militia drills. It often seems that old established or wealthier family members would become officers. It cost money to equip as an officer. Most officers were mounted on horses. That is why pistols were called horse pistols. A pair of holsters and pistols were carried just ahead of the saddle. Officers also carried swords. Occasionally fragments of uniforms still existed in local families however most had surrendered to moths. Note the cost of the "Regimental Suit" on

John H. Gramps (now Gramps) list of March 15, 1814. That was in the days of the War of 1812. At that period militia were sometimes required to serve on the northern boundary of the state — usually near Sackets Harbor. There still was a threat of British invasion. This pistol and receipt are from the Gramps family of Stone Arabia, which had resided there from the early 1700's.

This note shows that John H. Gramps was discharged from the infantry and placed in the horse company for Palatine.

Drowsy driving

Almost everyone is aware of the dangers of drinking and driving. However, not everybody may be aware that driving while drowsy can be equally dangerous. Fortunately, by taking the proper steps, drowsy driving can easily be avoided.

Drowsy driving is classified as either falling asleep when driving or not paying attention to the road or traffic around you. Diane Ward of Herkimer County Public Health warns that drowsy driving can result from lack of sleep or severe fatigue. It can be just as dangerous as driving drunk, because falling asleep even for a few seconds can result in serious injury or death to you or someone else.

Although drowsy driving can lead to serious injuries or even death, there are ways to avoid it completely. Ms. Ward recommends either pulling over or taking a brief nap, or, if possible, switching to another licensed driver if you start experiencing signs of sleepiness. The warning signs of drowsy driving include, but are not limited to, inability to stop yawning, difficulty keeping your eyes open, inability to recall the last few miles driven, and daydreaming or disconnected thinking. Other signs can include sloppy driving, such as weaving between lanes, missing traffic signs or driving on the rumble strips on the shoulder of the road.

Many of us can become fatigued as the workday progresses. Those who fall into this category should consider other alternatives before attempting to drive home while fatigued. Carpool with someone who lives in your neighborhood, if possible. Or, use public transportation, if available. If these options are not viable, call a family member to pick you up. If you must drive, take a short nap before starting out.

"Shift workers are at high risk for drowsy driving because they typically get less sleep and keep longer hours than traditional workers," Ms. Ward said. Also, our bodies are governed by internal clocks, making it harder for people who work at night to sleep during the day.

It is a common misperception that turning up the radio, singing, eating or opening up the window will prevent you from falling asleep behind the wheel. However, the reality is that none of these activities will keep you awake when driving.

"If you must drive while fatigued, try following up a cup of coffee or two with a short nap," Ms. Ward said. "Sleeping will allow the caffeine to take effect, making you more alert for your trip home. However, if you consume caffeine regularly, this strategy may not work out for you," she said.

Becoming a new parent can significantly increase the likelihood of drowsy driving. Getting enough sleep can often seem impossible when bringing a newborn home. However, not getting the rest you need can put you, your baby and other drivers in harm's way.

"If you consistently have problems falling asleep or staying asleep, you may be suffering from a sleep disorder. You should consult your health care provider if these symptoms continue. Also, talk to your health care provider about the side effects of any medications you are taking," Ms. Ward said.

Pathways Academy students honored for academics, attendance, behavior

ILION — Herkimer-Fulton-Hamilton-Otsego BOCES Pathways Academy at Remington students recently received third-quarter awards as part of a new series of ceremonies to promote positive behavior.

The Pathways Academy Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) team came up with the quarterly award ceremonies to go along with other PBIS methods used throughout the year, said Erica Haver, a Pathways Academy teacher and the PBIS team leader.

"The idea was to recognize students for their academic achievements, attendance and behavior, and we have seen it lead to improvements," Haver said.

The Herkimer BOCES

Pathways Academy award ceremony for the third quarter took place on Friday, April 20, at the Remington Educational Complex in Ilion. About 30 parents attended to watch as students were called up to the front of the cafeteria to receive their awards.

PBIS activities start off the school year with a week-long orientation activity focused on teamwork and interaction among students, teachers and staff. Students also are awarded "BOCES bucks" for positive behavior. Every other Friday is either a perk — such as pizza or ice cream — or a plaza, which is a store for using "BOCES bucks" to purchase items or experiences such as running a fire drill or throwing pie in a teacher's face.

There also are larger, quarterly carnival events that students are able to participate in if they behave properly.

The other PBIS team members are Gina Canistra, Hailee Schultz, Rachel Madison, Adam Spatto, Anthony Wronka, Corrie Clements and Carrie Doxtader.

The award ceremonies are a new part of PBIS this school year, and there have been three of them. There won't be one for the fourth quarter because students' grades won't be finalized until after their last day at Pathways.

Pathways Academy 11th-grader Jenna Perusse, 16, of Poland, received High Honor Roll, attendance and Hard Worker awards at the third-quarter ceremony.

"It feels good," she said. "I didn't expect to get as many awards as I did. I enjoyed it though."

One thing that helped her receive the awards is that she had a child care unit in Haver's class, and that relates to her career plans of working with and teaching children.

"So I'm really interested in what we're doing," she said.

Jenna said she thinks the award ceremonies help motivate students.

"I feel like if someone else doesn't get an award, they'll want to do better and maybe get an award next time," she said.

Pathways Academy 11th-grader Dakota Jowett, 17, of Mount Markham, also said that the award ceremonies definitely help students to want to improve. He received a Most Improved award, and it felt "great" to win, he said.

He has been working hard in classes such as social studies and English Language Arts because his goal is to be successful enough at Pathways Academy to go back to his school district, he said.

Pathways Academy ninth-grader Samantha Lynch, 15, of Poland, received a High Honor Roll award and an attendance award.

"It feels good," she said. "Really good."

Samantha said the award ceremonies help show students that they can be successful.

"If someone gets an award, you might think, 'Wow, I really can do this,'" she said.

The following is a list of the awards and the students who received them.

Arc Herkimer Golf Open Committee aims high for people with disabilities

The Arc Herkimer Golf Open Committee is planning a great event for the nonprofit's annual Golf Open on Thursday, June 7 at Mohawk Valley Country Club in Little Falls.

The goal is to beat last year's records of the most golfers, highest sponsorship dollars and amount raised. Proceeds from the Golf Open support underfunded and unfunded programs for individuals with disabilities.

The ticket price of $150 is all-inclusive for golf, cart, lunch, games, cocktails and premium buffet dinner, and more. A vast array of prizes and contests this year also includes a silent auction for topflight items and a ticket drawing for a golfer to putt for $10,000. All registered golfers will be eligible to win an annual membership to Mohawk Valley Country Club. Waterfront Grille will cater the event.

Captain and crew registration begins at 9:30 a.m. with a shotgun start at 11 a.m. To register for the Arc Herkimer's golf open, to become a sponsor, or for more information, contact Frank Reid at 315.574.7347 or email freid@archerkimer.org. You can also follow event information on Facebook.

Arc Herkimer's mission is empowering people with disabilities and enriching lives throughout our community. For more information on supporting the nonprofit, visit www.archerkimer.org.

National Infant Immunization Week

Learn more about protecting your baby with vaccines

National Infant Immunization Week (NIIW) was April 21-28, 2018. During NIIW, communities across the United States celebrated the critical role vaccination play in protecting the health of our children, families and communities. Most parents choose the safe, proven protection of vaccines. Giving babies the recommended immunizations by age two is the best way to protect them from 14 serious childhood diseases, like whooping cough and measles.

Herkimer County Public Health encourages you to make sure your child is up to date on vaccines by reviewing the CDC 2018 easy-to-read immunization schedule, and talking to your child's doctor. If you're pregnant, now is a great time to find a doctor for your baby and schedule a visit to discuss any questions you have about vaccines. NIIW is also the perfect time to learn more about vaccines and the diseases they prevent by visiting credible websites, such as the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's vaccine website for parents. For more information, visit cdc.gov/vaccines/parents/index.html.

Whatchamacallits

This week's Whatchamacallit is identifiable to those in the scientific community, but less so outside of it. This interesting device is a cork borer.

This item is made out of brass and is stored by nesting one into the other. The sizes of the borers range from 10 to 14 mm. The only thing missing from this set is the item called the pusher, used to push out the item from inside the borer.

The use of this item was originally to punch holes out corks used in scientific experiments.

The borer is hollow and the cylindrical end would be sharpened before being pushed through the cork. The pusher would then be placed though the hollow of the handled-end and it would push out the cut remains.

This was, and still is, convenient for scientists. Since the mid-1800's, cork would be used to stop vials of chemicals in biology and chemical experiments. Boring a hold in the corks would allow tubes to be inserted into the vials.

Modern day scientists would use the borers for tree ring analysis, coring into fruits of vegetables, and to perform well diffusion assays.

This video at www.youtube.com/watch?v=XA4E2toNF2Y shows science students using cork borers to take samples of foods without completely compromising the skin. I found it to be enjoyable.

Do you have your own Whatchamacallit?

Kovels: Antiques and Collecting

by Terry and Kim Kovel
Wiinblad Chair

Many artists don't create just pictures or sculptures. They make furniture, jewelry, dinnerware or even kitchen tools and toys. In the 1920s and '30s, there was a new title for these multi-talented artists: industrial designer. They redesigned existing large machines like trains or trucks, and small household goods like telephones and clocks. The result was better-looking objects that were less expensive to make.

Collectors today may not have space in their homes for the largest industrial machines, but they can find examples of smaller decorative items by these famous men. A few designers to look for are Russel Wright (dinnerware, furniture, aluminum); Henry Teague (Kodak camera); Henry Dreyfuss (telephone); Lurelle Guild (aluminumware, vacuum cleaner); Viktor Schreckengost (Cowan pottery, pedal cars, dinnerware); and Bjorn Wiinblad (posters, furniture, dinnerware and tapestries).

At a summer Rago auction in Lambertville, NJ, a 1970s Wiinblad table and six matching chairs sold for $1,875. The black lacquered pieces had a different colorful modern design on each chair back and tabletop. They are large examples of Wiinblad's talent. But his ashtrays and dishes, decorated with drawings of round-faced people in pseudo 19th-century clothes and often surrounded by vines, floral wreaths and trees, can be found online and in shops for less than $50.

Q: I found four vintage baseball cards glued to the bottom of a dresser that I bought at an estate sale. The players are "Pete" Appleton, "Line Drive" Nelson, "Hank" Greenberg and "Red" Kress. I'm not a collector. Are they worth anything?

A: Your baseball cards are part of the 1940 set by Play Ball and issued by Gum, Inc., a Philadelphia company that made Blony bubble gum. It was the largest bubble-gum producer in the United States. Play Ball baseball cards were included with the gum from 1929 to 1941. The 1940 set included 240 different cards. In 1948 Gum, Inc. became Bowman, which was bought by Topps Chewing Gum in 1956. Your cards are of little value because they were glued to the dresser and are in poor condition. Cards for Appleton, Kress and Nelson are worth about $5, if in poor condition. Hank Greenberg's card is worth more because he's in the Hall of Fame. It's worth about $30 in good condition and half that in poor condition.

Current prices

Fairy lamp, Fenton, dogwood, domed, glass center, folded rim base, Burmese, 6 inches, $70.

Wrought-iron gate, stylized peacock feathers, architectural, 2 doors, c. 1900, 45 x 45 inches, $360.

Sewing box, musical, empire, satinwood, hinged serpentine dome lid, swing handle, 1800s, 3 x 8 inches, $1,020.

Lounge chair, fried-egg shape, teak and upholstery, Hans Olsen, asymmetrical, 1956, 41 inches, $6,880.

TIP: Free Comic Book Day is May 5, 2018. Free Comic Book Day is held on the first Saturday in May each year, and it is the one day that participating comic-book specialty shops give away comic books free to anyone who comes into their shops.

A Concert of Music from the Archives of Hyde Hall

On Saturday, May 12, at 1 p.m., Hyde Hall and the Musicians Ma'alwyck present A Concert of Music from the Archives of Hyde Hall in the beautiful Hyde Hall Drawing Room. The Drawing Room at Hyde Hall is the ideal setting for chamber music as it was originally envisioned.

Ann-Marie Barker Schwartz, violin, Norman Thibodeau, flute, and Palmyra Catravas, forte piano will perform: Roslin Castle for solo flute arranged by Charles Nicholson; Paganini Fantasia No. 1 for flute and piano; Suite No. 2 from the opera Le Philtre of Daniel Auber arranged for two flutes by Eugene Walckiers; Airs Varie No. 5 for violin and piano of Charles Dancla based on opera themes by Joseph Weigl; Piano Sonata in B-flat Major, 1st movement, by Franz Schubert, and Franz Doppler's Duetto American for flute, violin and piano.

The Musicians of Ma'alwyck are celebrating their 18th year of exciting chamber music performances.

Tickets for the performance at $10 per person are available by calling Hyde Hall at 607.547.5098 Ext. 6 during office hours. Outside office hours, leave your name and phone number. We will return your call. Seating is limited and reservations are strongly recommended.

Please enter via the Glimmerglass State Park Entrance.

You are invited to The Hyde Hall Celebrate Mom! Garden Party from 12 - 3 p.m. On May 12, enjoy tea and treats in the library and on the veranda, and view the newly restored dining room walls and carpet. The Garden Party is free and open to the public.

Hyde Hall Inc., is located at 267 Glimmerglass State Park Road, Cooperstown, NY.

by Sam Mazzotta Plastic surgery for pets

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: My 4-year-old pug, "Granby," is having surgery soon to correct a problem that makes it difficult for him to breathe. One of my friends said the procedure is nothing more than cosmetic surgery and that I ought to save my money. What do you think? — Mel in New York

DEAR MEL: For pugs and other short-nosed breeds, surgery is sometimes necessary in order for them to breathe better. If their nostrils are malformed or too narrow, they can be widened to improve airflow. Or, if the soft palate (at the top of their mouth) is too long and causing breathing issues, surgery can be done to shorten the soft palate.

While these may cause slight changes in Granby's appearance, they can drastically improve his quality of life and overall health.

Pets are increasingly receiving cosmetic surgery. A CBS report said that dog owners in the U.S. spent $62 million in 2011 on such treatments. For pugs like Granby as well as many bulldogs and Boston terriers, corrective surgeries are often necessary. Likewise for shar-peis, which may need surgery to raise their eyelids, improving vision and preventing medical issues like scratched corneas.

However, other procedures are more cosmetic — lifting saggy skin around the face or abdomen, for example. And apparently some owners opt to give their dogs testicular implants after neutering, so they're (hopefully) less likely to notice or be bothered by the loss of their real testicles.

On the plus side, Granby's surgery appears to be medically necessary and might be covered by some pet insurance plans.

Good Housekeeping Weeknight Barbecue Beans

These delicious stovetop "baked bean" are a perfect partner for a rotisserie chicken.

- 2 slices bacon, cut crosswise into 1/2-inch pieces
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 can (15 to 19 ounces) black beans, drained and rinsed
- 1 can (15 to 19 ounces) red kidney beans, drained and rinsed
- 1/4 cup bottled barbeque sauce
- 2 tablespoons ketchup

1. In 2-quart saucepan, cook bacon pieces over medium heat about 6 minutes or until bacon is browned. With slotted spoon, transfer bacon to paper towels to drain.
2. Discard all but 1 tablespoon bacon fat from pan. Add onion and cook 6 to 8 minutes or until tender and golden, stirring occasionally.
3. Return bacon to saucepan. Stir in beans, barbecue sauce, ketchup and 1/4 cup water; heat to boiling over medium-high heat. Reduce heat to medium; cover and cook 5 minutes longer to blend flavors, stirring often.

Celebrate your mom at Hyde Hall event

On Saturday, May 12, from 12 – 3 p.m., the Hyde Hall Historic Mansion, 267 Glimmerglass State Park Road, Cooperstown, invites you to our Celebrate Mom! Garden Party. Give mom a first look at the new carpet, and restored walls in the dining room. Treat her to tea and sweets in the library and on the veranda of our 200-year-old English Country mansion. See the magnificent Hyde Hall silver and other artifacts from our collections. Several rooms in the mansion will be open for viewing. Enjoy the spectacular view of Otsego Lake.

Please enter via the Glimmerglass State Park entrance.

The event is free and open to the public. For further information visit our web site HydeHall.org or call 607.547.5098 Ext 6.

Herkimer BOCES Adult Practical Nursing program hosting open house on May 21

ILION — The Herkimer-Fulton-Hamilton-Otsego BOCES Adult Practical Nursing program is holding a series of open houses for anyone interested in gaining employment in health care.

Recent surveys conducted by the Herkimer BOCES nursing program identified more than 700 positions within a 30-minute drive of the nursing school in Ilion that require a licensed practical nurse. The positions have a 15-20 percent vacancy rate, according to the Herkimer BOCES survey.

The first open house was held on April 30. A second open house is scheduled for 7 p.m. on Thursday, May 21, at the Remington Educational Complex at 77 E. North St., Ilion.

At the open houses, participants have the opportunity to tour the school and gain insight about our full-time program, part-time day program and part-time night program.

For more information about the adult nursing program, visit www.herkimer-boces.org/LPN or www.facebook.com/HerkimerBOCESLPN.

Country Preacher

by Pastor Dan West

In James chapter 2, James admonishes believers to not respect one person more or less than others. While the wording of verse one is difficult to understand, James explains in the following verses. He explains that if we respect a person who is wearing fine clothing as more respectable than someone who appears to be poor, we are judging them and having evil thoughts (verse 4). Today we might say "You can't judge a book by its cover."

Every human being was created in the image and likeness of the Creator, God Himself (Genesis 1:26). Everybody's abilities and circumstances are different. The person who appears poor may be struggling with greater obstacles, or he or she may be ill. Don't try to judge the reason that they appear different than others. James writes in James 2:9 "if you respect one person more than another you commit sin."

He continues to say (verse 10) whoever keeps all the law except one part of it is guilty of breaking it all. No one is perfect so we must trust the Lord Jesus to forgive our sins and cleanse us so we can have a close relationship with the holy God and enjoy His blessings.

Now Here's a Tip

by JoAnn Derson

• "Spring-cleaning tip: To wash off houseplants, stick them in the shower. Cover the pot with a plastic grocery bag, run the shower and then wipe the leaves clean. It works for me." — G.I. in North Carolina

• Got pet hair in the car? No worries. Simply mist the upholstery (not wet) then use a squeegee to remove the hair. When you're done, go out and get a removable seat protector so Fido won't ruin your back seats!

• D.D. in Missouri writes: "How to keep your crispy cereal from getting soggy: Put milk in one bowl and the cereal in another bowl. Get a spoonful of milk, then dip it in the cereal." Or vice versa.

• "When cracking open an egg, crack closer to the edge of the egg (preserving one large side). The bigger half can be set upright in the egg carton, and filled with dirt and seeds. Spray lightly with water. Place in sunlight. In about two weeks, it should be ready for planting. The eggshells also help with fertilizing." — C.J. in Idaho

• "To keep kitties (or kids) from running out your whole roll of toilet paper, squish the cardboard core so that it crimps. It will still roll but not so freely. My cats would get a hold of it and keep pulling it down, but now it is harder and they don't do that as often, thankfully." — V.A. in Florida

• Get more juice out of a lemon by rolling it firmly on a countertop before slicing. If the lemon has been refrigerated, put it in the microwave for 10 seconds, roll, then cut. You'll double your juice.

Herkimer BOCES Health Science Careers students teach hygiene as preparation for competition

HERKIMER — Herkimer-Fulton-Hamilton-Otsego BOCES Health Science Careers students recently presented for Herkimer BO-

CES special education students about personal hygiene to prepare for a competition. Health Science Careers juniors Katelyn Overack-er, Cheyenne Keeler and Kaitlyn Kingdon, all of Central Valley, and Gabriella Beam, of Owen D. Young, visited special education classrooms in the morning and afternoon on April 10. The presentations were practice for participating in a Health Occupations Students of America competition on April 17-19 in Syracuse. Keeler said the practice helped because she started out nervous. "I was at first," she said. "It got better."

The Health Science Careers students taught about hair care, washing, clothing, brushing your teeth and more, and they used a mannequin for part of the presentation. "They liked the mannequin," Kingdon said.

Overacker said a tip about how to know how long to wash your hands seemed to stick with the students.

"I think a few of them thought it was interesting that you sing 'Happy Birthday' twice while washing your hands," she said.

Beam said she enjoyed teaching the students about hygiene.

"It felt good to help them understand," she said.

Season spring
with onions

Wild onions were among the first foods that mankind gathered and ate, and are one of the first signs of spring. Onions are in the allium family along with garlic and shallots. There's nothing like the intense flavor (or the smell) of an onion! Spring onions are my favorite type of onion, both as an ingredient and as a vibrant, flavorful garnish. Spring onions also are called green onions, young onions, pencil onions and scallions.

Scallions aren't as fully ripened as a green onion and should not have a bulb. Spring onions are the milder, first stage of a mature onion. If left in the ground to grow, they'll form into an onion bulb.

Larger, older spring onions may have limp or faded stalks and a stronger flavor than the smaller ones. Spring onions should be small and thin, with a firm base at the root tip and crisp, bright green leaves. Select spring onions that are not fully developed, with a white bulb end and long, green stalks. The flavor of the leaves is milder than the root end. Spring onions will keep for five to seven days when wrapped in plastic and stored in the refrigerator.

Spring onions are a great source of vitamins A and C, iron, calcium and fiber. They also contain a substance that prevents the formation of blood clots. Eating onions helps to lower blood pressure and cholesterol levels.

To prepare the spring onions, cut off the roots and peel away the outer layer to remove any lingering dirt. Next, rinse the leaves, spreading them gently with your fingers to get at the dirt in the crevices. Both parts are edible. Although the white bulb is listed most often as part of recipes, the green leaves also should be incorporated into recipes and as a garnish.

Use the leaves to add a wonderful burst of green color, to tie up appetizers into a package or to use as a frilly, edible garnish. To curl the ends, cut off the roots and all but about 3 inches of the green tops. Slice the tops lengthwise down from the green end into the white section. Put the leaves in cold water and chill for several

While spring onions are best served raw, they're also delicious grilled or sautéed. They should be added during the final stages of a recipe for maximum flavor. This recipe is a showcase for two vegetables that will brighten up your dinner plate with the colors and flavors of spring!

Sauteed Spring Onions With Asparagus

2 pounds green asparagus with pencil-thin stalks
1 whole bunch of spring onions or green onions, root bottoms removed and discarded

- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 tablespoon unsalted butter
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tablespoon dried Italian seasoning
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground black pepper

1. Trim the woody bottoms from the asparagus and discard. Slice asparagus diagonally into thirds and set aside. Slice spring onions or green onions in 1/4-inch slices and set aside.

2. Add the olive oil and the butter to a medium pan over medium heat. When the butter begins to bubble, add the spring onions, garlic and Italian seasoning, and sauté until the onions begin to soften, about 2-4 minutes.

3. Add the asparagus and sprinkle the vegetables with the salt and black pepper. Combine the ingredients and sauté, uncovered for 7-10 minutes or until the asparagus can be pierced easily with a fork.

Mexican Meatball Hoagies

When you're bored with the same old, same old — put this on the menu!

8 ounces extra-lean ground sirloin beef or turkey breast

3/4 cup shredded Kraft 2 Percent Milk Cheddar cheese

3/4 cup crushed Doritos Baked Corn Chips

1/4 cup reduced-sodium ketchup

1 tablespoon dried onion flakes

1 teaspoon chili seasoning

6 hot dog buns

1 1/2 cups shredded lettuce

3/4 cup chunky salsa (mild, medium or hot)

1. In a medium bowl, combine meat, 6 tablespoons Cheddar cheese, corn chips, ketchup, onion flakes and chili seasoning. Shape into 18 (1-inch) meatballs.

2. Evenly arrange meatballs in an 8-by-8-inch microwave-safe baking dish. Cover and microwave on HIGH (100 percent power) for 6 to 8 minutes or until meatballs are firm and no longer pink.

3. For each sandwich, place 3 meatballs on a hot dog bun and top with 1/4 cup shredded lettuce, 2 tablespoons salsa and 2 tablespoons Cheddar cheese. Serve at once. Serves 6.

Stickelers Answer

The numbers are 102 and 74.

Think of this as two different sequences:

9 12 18 30 54 102

3 6 12 24 48

and 12 14 18 26 42 74

2 4 8 16 32

Pulled-Chicken Sandwiches

Transform rotisserie chicken into a tangy, barbecue-sauced sandwich filling in just minutes.

- 1 small (2 to 2 1/2 pounds) rotisserie chicken
- 1 cup barbecue sauce
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/4 cup red wine vinegar
- 6 Kaiser rolls, split
- 1/2 pound deli coleslaw
- Carrot and celery sticks

1. Remove skin and bones from chicken; coarsely shred meat.

2. In 2-quart saucepan, combine chicken, barbecue sauce, water and vinegar. Cook over medium heat 5 minutes or until hot, stirring frequently.

3. Spoon chicken mixture onto bottom halves of rolls and top with coleslaw and top halves of roll. Serve with carrot and celery sticks. Makes 6 servings.

Mohawk Homestead to hold chicken barbecue

A Chicken barbecue will be held at The Mohawk Homestead on Saturday, May 19, starting at 4:30 p.m. and running until all dinners are sold. According to Claudia Gloo, event organizer, it is recommended but not required that the public purchase advanced sale tickets. They are available for $10 each by calling The Mohawk Homestead at 315.866.1841 or stopping at The Mohawk Homestead.

This will be a full meal with the chicken prepared by master barbecue chef Patrick "Butchie" Parese. A dessert is also included with the half chicken, salt potatoes, coleslaw and roll. The take-out only meal may be picked up starting at 4:30 p.m. in the parking lot of The Mohawk Homestead at 62 East Main Street in Mohawk. The barbecue is a fundraiser to benefit the residents who call The Mohawk Homestead their home.

The Mohawk Homestead is a not-for-profit adult home providing loving care to seniors. For further information regarding The Mohawk Homestead contact Joe Franco, administrator, at 315.866.1841 or jfranco@mohawkhomestead.com.

To Your Good Health

by Keith Roach, M.D.
Infection causes many Alzheimer's deaths

DEAR DR. ROACH: Our local newspaper just ran the obituary of a 59-year-old woman who died from Alzheimer's disease. I didn't know her, but I've known at least two other people with that illness. One has passed away; the other is in a memory-care unit. How does Alzheimer's cause or contribute to death? -- A.

ANSWER: Alzheimer's disease is a common degenerative disease of the brain. It's unfortunately very likely that in the years ahead, you will know many more people diagnosed, as the risk increases with age. Its exact cause is unknown. We often think of Alzheimer's as being a disease of memory; however, personality changes, loss of insight, impaired visual skills and language dysfunction are other cardinal findings of the disease, though any of these may show more clearly as the disease progresses.

Alzheimer's can progress in individuals at very different rates, but the mean survival after diagnosis has been reported as three to eight years. People with Alzheimer's disease usually become debilitated due to poor nutrition and hydration, which leads to increased risk for infection, one of the most common causes of death in Alzheimer's.

I don't mean to suggest that debility is the fault of the caregivers of people with advanced dementia. Caring for a person with Alzheimer's disease is a difficult and demanding task — physically, mentally and emotionally. But no matter how devoted and skillful the care is, there is no preventing the physical decline that happens as the Alzheimer's progresses; we can only slow it down. It has been my experience that in patients with advanced dementia, the caregiver becomes the most important part of the team to get information from and give guidance on care and provide support to.

DEAR DR. ROACH: I'm pushing 90 years old. I developed large, blue veins, similar to the varicose veins my mother had in her legs. What are these called on the hands? I read that Hollywood stars get their hand veins collapsed. I am embarrassed by the vein condition on my hands. — A.M.

ANSWER: "Varix" is the Latin word for a dilated vein, so we call them varicose veins no matter where they are on the body. They run very strongly in families, but it isn't clear exactly what causes them.

Most varicose veins do not need to be treated, but if they are complicated by bleeding, blood clots or pain, they may require treatment. Varicose veins in the legs also can be a cause of restless leg syndrome. Treatment can be effected by surgery, injecting a medication to close the vein or with a laser. Having an experienced practitioner is important.

Some people do treat them for cosmetic reasons. You don't have to be a movie star to be concerned about your appearance. It is expensive, though.
