HERKIMER BOCES
Adult LPN Program
OFFERING HEALTH CARE TRAINING FOR OVER 50 YEARS

ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS
FOR SEPTEMBER 2015 CLASSES
PRACTICAL NURSING
• Full time 10 months • Part time 20 months days
• Part-time 20 months evenings w/Saturday clinicals
Financial Aid is available to qualified applicants
At Herkimer BOCES we have a long tradition of training practical nurses. Our graduates come from diverse backgrounds and ages. Some come with no health care experience and are in need of training. Others are building upon existing nursing skills. One thing all our students hold in common, is a desire to continue their education and provide a brighter future for themselves and their families.

Water safety - enjoy the water but stay healthy

Montgomery County Public Health wants to raise awareness about healthy swimming behaviors, including ways to prevent Recreational Water Illnesses (RWIs). RWIs are illnesses spread by swallowing or having contact with contaminated water in swimming pools, water parks, spas, interactive fountains, lakes, rivers, streams, or oceans. Illnesses at aquatic facilities can occur in or out of the water.

Recreational Water Illnesses (RWIs)

The best way to prevent RWIs is to keep germs out of the pool in the first place. Everyone can help create healthy swimming experiences this summer by following these six healthy swimming steps:

PLEASE don't swim when you have diarrhea.

PLEASE don't swallow pool water.

PLEASE practice good hygiene. Shower with soap before swimming and wash your hands after using the toilet or changing diapers.

PLEASE take your kids on bathroom breaks or check diapers often.

PLEASE change diapers in a bathroom or a diaper-changing area and not at poolside.

PLEASE wash your children thoroughly with soap and water before they go swimming.

For more information about healthy swimming, visit: CDC's Healthy Swimming website at www.cdc.gov/healthyswimming

Unity Hall hosts second annual art show

by Elizabeth A. Tomlin

Unity Hall in Fort Plain, formerly the Universalist Church at 19 Center St., hosted its second annual art show on June 6.

Artist Steven Donovan coordinated the event once again this year. "I had 11 artists committed to being here," Donovan said. Although several of those artists did not show up, everyone deemed the show successful. "It's bigger than it was last year and next year it will be even bigger."

Donovan remarked that it takes a lot of work to put the show together, but it's worth it because it brings artists from the community together to display their work.

Author/photographer Maria Whalen displayed copies of her book 'Little Poems' and beautifully crafted photo cards, as well as framed photographs.

Whalen said she has only been designing the cards for about three years. "I always enjoyed photography, but was too busy teaching and never had the opportunity to spend time with it."

Whalen was a high school level Special Education teacher for over 25 years. Her photography has been exhibited throughout the Mohawk Valley.

Event Coordinator Steven Donovan, poses with wife Debbie and some of his paintings.

Photographer Ann Catherine Kielbasa is a SUNY Cobleskill student and has worked with photography for three years. New to this year's show, Kielbasa displayed framed photographs of many subjects. Her work will be on display at the Fort Plain Co-Op for the month of July.

Photographer Linda Tracz, of Roseboom, NY, has been working with photography all of her life. She had a variety of framed photographs displayed. She works from home and has a display at Linda's Consignment Shop in Fort Plain. This was her first year at the Unity Hall Art Show and she was pleased with the turnout. "There's been quite a few people here today," Tracz reported.

"Steve really brought everything here together today," commented Tolga Morawski, founder of Historic Fort Plain. "He had this idea to do this and I came out to support him. This is bigger than last year."

Artists of all kinds are invited to contact Donovan at 518-993-4737 to register for next year's art show.

Visit http://mohawkvalleycollective.com/music/ for information on upcoming music shows, taking place each weekend, all summer at the Unity Hall.

Van Alstyne Homestead celebrates Dairy Month with Pandora the Painted Cow

by Elizabeth A. Tomlin

"We decided that since June is National Dairy Month, every Saturday of the month will be dedicated to National Dairy Month," said Rita Pineyro, member of Van Alstyne's Homestead and Museum. The Homestead, located at 42 Moyer Street, is the oldest building in Canajoharie, possibly originally constructed as early as 1735.

Registered Holstein, Pandora the "Hand-Painted Cow" and owner Stephanie Arndt share a quiet moment at the event.

Photos by Elizabeth A. Tomlin

"We're trying to attract children and adults in the community to come and visit us at the museum," said Pineyro. "There are a lot of local people that have never been here."

On the opening Saturday of Dairy Month the Homestead featured milk, with Stephanie Arndt and Pandora the Hand-Painted Cow, and Shannon Dygert of Dygert's Dairy, and an agricultural display with SUNY Cobleskill.

Dygert's has recently added Dygert Farm Creamery to their rapidly growing dairy and are now delivering freshly bottled milk. "If we have our own bottling plant, then we can control the milk prices and it will be better for everybody," Dygert said. For information on their products, contact Dygert's at 518-495-4887.

Pandora was good-natured as always about having folks put their hand prints on her with non-toxic, washable, Crayola paint, giving everyone a true idea of where their dairy products actually come from.

Arndt says she has been taking Pandora to dairy events for two years, since the cow was only a calf. Their first outing was at a Diamond Dawgs baseball game featuring a "Salute to the Cows" night in Little Falls.

Arndt says most of the children were afraid to come too close to Pandora. "I wanted to figure out a way to make it more hands on," explained Arndt. "So, I literally came up with this idea to get kids to put their hands on her."

Local children will have another opportunity to visit with Pandora again on June 20, when she will be returning to the Van Alstyne Homestead from 1-4 p.m. Organic yogurt will also be featured that day.

Van Alstyne board member Professor Annette Pineyro said that she came up with the National Dairy Month promotion over the long winter. "I wanted to do a month long event and since we're a historical homestead, what better way to do that than to combine our past history with National Dairy Month in our agricultural community. I think it is very, very important to support our local farmers and dairies. And I think it's important to connect our youth with our agricultural roots and our agricultural economy."

On June 27 a wine and cheese pairing will take place at the Homestead to close out National Dairy Month. "We hope to have this as an annual event every June," said Pineyro.

Other events are scheduled for the rest of the summer.

Shannon Dygert (L) of Dygert Farms Creamery, visited with Rita Pineyro and Betty Sanders at the event. Dygert handed out free samples of milk and coloring books to attendees.

Strange but true

by Samantha Weaver

• It was Alice Roosevelt, prominent socialite and daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt, who declared that her purpose in life was to "empty what's full, fill what's empty, and scratch where it itches."

• King James VI of Scotland was also, after the crowns of England and Scotland were united in 1603, King James I of England. He may have been doubly noble, but those who study such things say that his personal habits would not have been out of place in a commoner of the time period. He reportedly never bathed, claiming that baths were an unhealthy practice, and he would wear the same clothes for months on end.

• Three of the first five presidents of the United States — John Adams, Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe — died on July 4.

• Fans of the long running sitcom "Scrubs" will be familiar with the main character, Dr. John "J.D." Dorian, and his best friend, Dr. Christopher Turk. You might not realize, though, that the actors who played those roles — Zach Braff and Donald Faison — also are best friends in real life.

• The game of tag may seem like an innocent children's pastime, but in some countries it has a sinister undertone. In Italy, players pretend that anyone getting tagged has caught the black plague. In Madagascar, leprosy is the contagion that is being supposedly spread by the game, while in Spain, it's relatively harmless fleas.

• Taking the stairs may be good for your cardiovascular health, but there are dangers you might not know of. In an average year, approximately 27 people are killed while using an elevator, while 1,600 die while taking the stairs.

Thought for the Day: "Learning is what most adults will do for a living in the 21st century." — Lewis Perelman

Don't Forget! Father's Day June 21

Spring fridge cleaning

by Jessica Sprague, Field Specialist, Food Safety

As spring slowly comes around we find motivation that has been lost for much of the winter. I'm not sure if it was the sun streaming through my windows, the fact that I put my sweaters away or that the sanding bucket can finally be removed from my front steps, but I finally feel ready to conquer spring cleaning. The longer days make the to-do list seem much more manageable at the end of a day at work. What a novel idea!

Since many of us are launching into spring cleaning, both inside and outside the house, I thought it important to discuss an area of the house that doesn't get much attention during cleaning rampages: the fridge. Our refrigerators serve the purpose of keeping our food safe by limiting the growth of microorganisms and keeping food and beverages we'd prefer to consume cold just the way we like them. Also, it is great to start with a clean and organized fridge and freezer if you like to freeze fresh fruits and vegetables during the summer for use in winter. Let's show this appliance some love and continue to keep our food safe by properly cleaning and reorganizing our fridge this spring.

You should first check that the refrigerator is equipped with a thermometer. Some refrigerators have a built in thermometer but if not, buy one that can hang or sit on a shelf. These can usually be found at your local supermarket. Be sure that the temperature remains at 40°F or below for the fridge and 0°F or below for the freezer. These temperatures will help keep the growth of microorganisms at bay.

Once you're ready to get to work it's best to have a trash bag handy instead of simply setting spoiled foods on the counter where they might accidentally end up right back in the fridge! Check the dates on all items, packages and condiments. Many perishable or leftover items move through a fridge quickly, but check that your produce and cheese drawers are not hiding any nasty secrets in the back corners! As you go through various items remember that taste-testing is not an acceptable way to see if food is still good. While mold or yeasts may change the taste of foods and indicate spoilage, most pathogens that cause foodborne illness cannot be seen, smelled or tasted.

Try to finish this task in one sitting and make sure food is not left out on the counters for more than two hours before being restocked in the fridge. Depending on how full your fridge is that may be easier said than done! The temperature in the fridge will climb quickly with the door wide open, so be mindful of the time. It may be best to place highly perishable items in a cooler with ice or ice packs to ensure that they remain chilled while you clean. These could include dairy, meat and poultry products.

After sorting through food items, wash removable shelves and bins with soap and warm water. Wash the permanent shelving with soap and water as well and be sure to rinse them. It is best to avoid harsh cleaning sprays or chemicals as the odor may linger and contaminate foods. If food odor is a problem even after a thorough cleaning, place an open container of baking soda in the fridge to help absorb the odors. Though remember that unpleasant odors may indicate problems with drainage or venting in your appliance, so if it persists after a thorough cleaning it is worth investigating further!

Before restocking your fridge take time to consider the way you organize your items. It is good practice to keep raw meat, poultry or seafood on the lower shelves in sealed containers or plastic bags. This will keep any juices from raw animal products from contaminating other foods that will not be cooked before eating. For example, you wouldn't want raw juice from a chicken breast dripping onto some cut fruit on the lower shelves. Another good organizing tip is to keep perishable items out of the door of the fridge. The temperature in the door fluctuates much more than that in the main compartment, since it is often being opened and shut. I remember my father used to throw a fit when I would wander to the kitchen, open the door of the fridge and stare inside for minutes at a time unsure of what I wanted to eat. Wouldn't he have a laugh knowing that I'm encouraging people to avoid that exact habit from a food safety perspective! Happy spring cleaning!

Chow Line: A tried-and-true DIY 'detox' diet

Q: I've seen a lot of different versions of "detox" diets. Which type might work best to help me shed a few pounds this spring?

A: "Detox" and similar diets have been around for ages. As early as the 1930s, the grapefruit diet promised quick weight loss because of some sort of fat-burning enzymes, which simply don't exist.

Today, many detox diets focus on juicing or eliminating entire food groups and promise to help you burn fat, boost metabolism, improve digestion and (almost always) lose weight. However, there seems to be no consensus about what a detox diet really consists of, or what it is that you need to detoxify out of your body that your liver, kidney and colon don't already eliminate.

That said, spring is always a good time to recharge your diet. And if you want to drop a few pounds, why not do so in a way that's sustainable over time and avoid a yo-yo pattern of weight loss and gain? Start with these guidelines:

• Eat two fruits a day — the equivalent of 1 to 2 cups total. Be sure to eat a wide variety, not only to keep your diet interesting but so you reap the benefits of a range of different types of produce. Try strawberries, blueberries, raspberries, cherries, honeydew, pineapple, mango, oranges, grapes or any other fruit. Frozen and canned fruit also count. To lose weight, limit how much juice and dried fruit you eat, such as raisins or prunes, because they pack a lot of calories in a small amount and won't fill you up. In fact, if you choose to eat dried fruit, count it double (a quarter-cup equals a half-cup of fruit for the day).

• Eat 2.5 cups of vegetables or more each day. Again, choose a wide variety. Over the course of a week, be sure to include dark green vegetables, such as broccoli, spinach, kale, collard or other greens; red and orange vegetables including red peppers, carrots, tomatoes, pumpkin and winter squash; beans, such as black beans, pinto beans and kidney beans; and other vegetables, such as cabbage, cauliflower, green beans and zucchini. Limit starchy vegetables such as potatoes, green peas and corn. When eating raw leafy greens, double the amount: Eat 2 cups and count them as 1 cup.

• Limit refined grains, such as bread, rice and pasta, to 2 to 3 ounces a day, and enjoy an additional 2 to 3 ounces of whole grains. An "ounce" in this case is equal to one slice of bread, half an English muffin, a half-cup of oatmeal, 1 cup of breakfast cereal, a half-cup of rice or pasta, or one 6-inch tortilla.

• Enjoy 3 to 5.5 ounces of protein per day, including poultry, seafood, lean beef, nuts and eggs (1 egg is equal to one ounce of protein).

• Eat 2.5 to 3 cups of lowfat or nonfat dairy a day, including milk, yogurt and cheese.

• Choose healthy oils, such as olive oil, and limit to 1 to 2 tablespoons a day.

This plan might look familiar: It's the plan recommended by the Dietary Guidelines for Americans. Get more details at www.choosemyplate.gov .

Baby steps to budgeting

This article was written by Amanda Christensen.

It's the time of year when we see beautiful spring blossoms and blushing brides. When you're in the middle of planning a wedding, plans to manage budgets and bank account balances as a new couple aren't always popular discussion topics.

How to start saving

When you read the word "budget" what's the first thing that comes to your mind? Unrealistic? Stress? Confined? Restricting? But you have to start somewhere, and you have to have the desire to manage your money.

Want to track how much money you spend eating out? How about cutting back on your monthly utility bill? Maybe there is a fun trip you are planning for next summer and you'd like to have a good chunk of money set aside for it. How about a little more Christmas money for that special someone's gift? Whatever the reason, here are three baby steps to get you started:

1. Automate your savings. This is the KEY to getting off to the right start. Automatically sending a chunk of your paycheck into a savings account is a foolproof way to set money aside. You don't have to remember a monthly transaction and the money is moving from checking to savings without you touching it — which equals less temptation to spend it.

2. Take out your personal allowance in cash every month. Allowing yourself to spend some of your money every month however you choose is an absolute must! Decide how much each person can spend and stick to it. Take the money, in cash, out of the bank and when it's gone, it's gone.

3. Use the PowerPay App. This free app allows you to enter all your debts and see how long it will take to pay them off, with or without power payments. Both spouses can download the app and stay on top of paying down debt together. Don't have a smart phone? You can also find PowerPay at www.powerpay.org .

These baby steps for budgeting, whether for wedded bliss or something else, will be helpful moving forward and will get you on the right track.

What tips do you have for newly married couples for managing their finances? I'd love to hear from you!

Blueberry-Lemon Tiramisu

Impress your friends and family with this great summertime tiramisu!

- 1-2 lemons
- 3-3/4 cups blueberries
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 4 tablespoons water
- 1 container (17.6-oz.) nonfat Greek yogurt
- 1 package (3-oz.) ladyfingers
- Mint sprig for garnish

1. From lemon(s), grate 1-1/2 teaspoons peel and squeeze 1/4 cup juice.

2. In medium saucepan, combine 1-1/2 cups blueberries, 1/4 cup sugar and 1 tablespoon water. Heat on medium 5 minutes, or until blueberries soften and juices thicken, stirring occasionally. Transfer to medium bowl and stir in 1-1/2 cups blueberries. Set aside.

3. Prepare lemon syrup: In microwave safe small bowl, combine 1/4 cup sugar and remaining 3 tablespoons water. Cook in microwave on High 1 minute. Stir in 3 tablespoons lemon juice and 1 teaspoon lemon peel.

4. In medium bowl, stir together nonfat yogurt and remaining 1/4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, and 1/2 teaspoon lemon peel.

5. In 8x8-inch ceramic or glass baking dish, arrange half of ladyfingers. Brush with half of lemon syrup. Spoon blueberry mixture evenly over ladyfingers. Arrange remaining ladyfingers over blueberries. Brush with remaining lemon syrup. Spoon yogurt mixture on top, spreading evenly. Cover and refrigerate overnight. To serve, top tiramisu with remaining 3/4 cup blueberries and garnish with mint sprig. Serves 8.

Tip: We tested this recipe with both soft and hard (Italian style) ladyfingers (sometimes called Savoiardi) and had good results with both types. For the best texture, let the tiramisu sit in the refrigerator overnight.

Summer time heat can be dangerous for anyone

Montgomery County Public Health wants to remind everyone that the hot weather can cause serious health effects — even death for some people. Here's what you need to know about the effects of the hot weather and what you can do to keep cool.

Heat related illnesses occur when the body is unable to cool itself. The most common heat related illnesses are heat stroke (sun stroke), heat exhaustion, heat cramps and heat rash. Heat stroke (sun stroke) is an emergency — ACT FAST! Symptoms of heat stroke include: hot, dry, red skin, rapid pulse, high body temperature above 103 degrees Fahrenheit, throbbing headache, dizziness, nausea, loss of alertness, confusion, hallucinations, aggression, rapid and shallow breathing and unconsciousness or coma). Call 911 immediately. Cool the person quickly. Bring to a cool place and use a cool bath or sponges. Utilize fans and air conditioning, or wrap ice packs in cloth and place on person's neck, wrists, ankles and armpits or; remove clothing and wrap the person in cool, wet sheets. Do not give the person alcohol to drink. If emergency medical personnel are delayed, call the hospital emergency room for further instructions.

Here's what you can do to protect yourself during a heat wave:

• Use air conditioning to cool down or go to an air conditioned building;

• If you don't have air conditioning in your home, open windows and shades on the shady side and close them on the sunny side to try to cool it down;

• Drink plenty of fluids but avoid alcohol, caffeine and sugary drinks;

• Beat the heat with cool showers and baths;

• Take regular breaks from physical activity;

• Avoid strenuous activity during the hottest part of the day (between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m.);

• Wear loose, lightweight clothing, light colored clothing to help keep cool;

• Stay out of the sun as much as possible;

• Wear sunscreen and a ventilated hat (e.g., straw or mesh) when in the sun, even if it is cloudy;

• Never leave children, pets or those with special needs in a parked car, even briefly. Temperatures in the car can become dangerous and deadly within a few minutes;

• Check on your neighbors, family and friends, especially those who are elderly or have special needs. Encourage a "buddy system" where relatives, neighbors, and friends check to see how a person is coping and if they need help;

• Make sure there is enough water, food and plenty of shade for pets and livestock if they are outdoors. Limit their exercise during periods of extreme temperatures; and

• Ask your Health Care Provider if the medications you take increase your risk to excessive heat events.

For more information on how to keep cool during the summer heat, information regarding summer safety, contact us at 518-853-3531.

E.T. Wristwatch

Q: I have an E.T. wristwatch. What is it worth? — Carl, Salt Lake City, Utah

A: Steven Spielberg's "E.T. The Extra Terrestrial" opened in theaters in 1982, the same year your watch was made by Nelsonic. Occasionally this watch pops up in shops and at antique malls and is generally priced in the $25 to $100 range. The higher end price is for the watch in its original box and in mint to near-mint condition.

Q: I have a partial set of Harlequin dinnerware, and I wonder what you can tell me about this pattern. — Mark, Norman, OK

A: Harlequin dinnerware was produced by Homer Laughlin China Company of Newell, West Virginia, starting in 1938. The pattern was marketed exclusively by the Woolworth five-and-dime stores and was extremely popular. A special set was issued to celebrate Woolworth's 100th anniversary in 1979. Changes were made so the newer pieces could be more easily distinguished from the earlier ones.

Q: I have an old sewing machine that has been in my family for at least a century. It is a "Household" machine. What can you tell me about it? — Sally, Portsmouth, VA

A: The company began as the Providence Tool Company in Providence, RI. Even in the beginning, the main business was the manufacturing of sewing machines. The company name was changed to Household Sewing Machine in 1890 and continued until about 1906.

Q: I have a porcelain doll that has been in my family since about 1910. The doll needs some repair work. Can you suggest someone who can do this for me? — Katie, Walnut Grove, AR

A: Dolls & Designs is a business that specializes in dolls repair. Contact is 122 Main St. West, Valdese, NC 2869; www.dollsanddesigns.webs.com ; and 828-893-0640.

Q: I was given a trinket box by Hummel for my birthday several years ago. It is "Umbrella Boy." Is it worth keeping? — Betty, San Diego, CA

A: According to "The Official M.J. Hummel Price Guide" by Heidi Ann Von Recklinghausen and published by Krause Books, your trinket box is worth about $35.

June is Adopt-a-Shelter-Cat month

AMSTERDAM, NY — The Montgomery County SPCA is joining national animal welfare organizations in promoting June as Adopt-a-Shelter-Cat month.

The MCSPCA is encouraging cat lovers to consider adoption by highlighting the many cats and kittens available at its Animal Shelter facility and at Amsterdam's PetSmart Adoption Center, as well as on the website www.mc-spca.org and on Facebook. A variety of cats and kittens available for adoption will also be featured during the Curtis Lumber Pet-a-Palooza adoption event in Perth on June 20.

"We have a wonderful assortment of cats and kittens anxiously awaiting to begin their new lives", says Amy Tollner, president of the MCSPCA Board of Directors. "From lively and playful kittens to gentle, mellow senior cats and every personality in-between, all in need of a new forever home. Some will make a great buddy for an existing pet, while others will be happiest as your only pet. We assist adopters in choosing the cat that will best suit their lifestyle and home situation."

"We are particularly hopeful to find the perfect home for Dakota, who been waiting since early January to have her special someone come and take her to her forever home. Also waiting since January are Calypso, Ebony and Samantha. Adopt your new best friend today!"

The MCSPCA cat adoption fees are $125 for kittens up to six months old, $85 for adult cats and $60 for senior cats six years and older and special needs cats. The adoption fee includes vet medical exam, spay/neuter, deworming and flea treatment, testing for Feline AIDS/Feline Leukemia, distemper vaccination, rabies vaccination (four months and older), PetWatch24® microchip with first year registration, 30 days of free pet health insurance, and an adoption kit.

An adoption application is required, including references and name of veterinarian. Once an application is accepted, approval of adoption will be considered following a home visit conducted by MCSPCA representatives.

The MCSPCA Animal Shelter, located on SPCA Road, off State Highway 5S just east of Amsterdam, is open Monday and Wednesday through Saturday from noon to 4 p.m. (closed Sunday and Tuesday). In addition, adoption clinics are held at the Amsterdam PetSmart Adoption Center on Monday through Friday from 6 to 8 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday from noon to 3 p.m. Cats may also be previewed on www.mc-spca.org and Facebook.

The MCSPCA is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to the welfare of homeless, abandoned, neglected and abused animals in the Montgomery County area. Funded primarily by public donations and nominal fees, the MCSPCA receives no funding from governmental agencies nor from national animal welfare organizations such as the ASPCA or Humane Society of the U.S.

One year old Dakota has been waiting since early January at the Montgomery County SPCA Animal Shelter for her turn to be adopted into a loving, forever family. She was brought to the Shelter from a home with too many cats. Very shy at first, with love and patience she has now blossomed into a sweet and loving girl. She might make a good buddy for another household cat. She is so deserving of a home and family to finally call her own, and will be a wonderful best friend to someone special. Dakota can be visited at the MCSPCA Animal Shelter — her adoption fee is $85.

A Fort Plain lady, her house and her legacy

Many folks as they advance in age have a tendency to read obituaries. Never mind the old joke about if you do not find yours; you go on about what you were doing. Some of those obituaries reveal facts about people that make you realize that had you known this or that when the person was living they could have answered some questions that you would like to have heard.

Old buildings seldom have published obituaries unless they were of famous businesses or well-known residents. I'd like to write on. We all know that old structures must give way to new. When I drive across the river into Fort Plain I note three houses being torn down to make room for the new Stewart's Shop expansion. One of those houses and its long time owner is the subject of this story. That house number is 27 River Street. I had passed that house often before 1954 when it became better known to me.

In that year a small group of people belonged to the recently formed Tryon County Muzzle Loaders. All were in old firearms. In 1954 falling down old Fort Klock became their project. There were no windows and we needed some. The lady at 27 River Street contacted the writer of this story to offer a few old guns. As it turns out they did not fit our project so the lady sold them to someone else and gave us money instead. That gift was one of the very first donations to the long project in preserving Fort Klock. The lady was Lucille Yerdon (1884 to 1973). This writer came to know Miss Yerdon quite well. She told me the story of her father William Yerdon (1848 to 1911) who patented and manufactured the Yerdon hose band in Fort Plain. The tall brick building where they were made along the creek in the village still stands. Lucille and I enjoyed visiting. One day when I stopped there she was writing on a piece of scrap paper. At least it was scrap to her. I noticed it was a nice letterhead for the company that she once owned. I asked if there were a lot of those letterheads still around.

Lucille's father, William Yerdon invented a hose band known as Yerdon's double improved hose band, which are still used today.

Upon finding this was probably the last one it was given to me. I've copied it many times for those who were interested. I was asked if I would clean her attic. Actually like many of us, Lucille did not want to give away anything of value, just worthless magazines. There was one thing of interest to me. An old leather valise held a quantity of old Yerdon hose bands of several sizes. They were chrome plated instead of plain brass as the usual ones were. I was told that her father's best customer was the railroad. When attending a dinner meeting of railroad officials, one was placed by each plate for a napkin ring as an advertisement. I was given several and have passed them onto friends to try to perpetuate the story of Fort Plan business that passed away many years ago. So they became one of the Yerdon family's legacies. However there is another more far-reaching one. It was Lucille Yerdon who founded the Yerdon Foundation that has been so beneficial to our area.

In an effort to release this story while the Yerdon dwelling was still fresh there are facts both known and unknown needing research. More will follow about the Yerdon Company.

~~ANNOUNCEMENT~~

The Class of 2015 is excited to be holding this year's commencement exercises outside, on Karker Field at the athletic complex. Family, friends, and community members are welcome to attend. There will be seating on the field for those attendees with tickets, and the public is welcome to sit on the bleachers or bring a blanket or lawn chairs to watch from the hill. Please be aware that high heels are not recommended for attendees, as we are concerned for your safety as you walk on the field. In the event that there is inclement weather, we will move the ceremony to the Harry Hoag School gymasium.

~~AWARDS SEASON IS HERE~~

~Valedictorian and Salutatorian Announced: On Thursday, June 11th students, along with their families and friends, gathered for the annual awards ceremony in the high school auditorium. Over ninety students were recognized for the academic achievements, artistic abilities, sportsmanship and extracurricular activities. The Valedictorian of the Class of 2015 is..... Lesly Hazzard. The Salutatorian is..... Tabetha Strobel. The 217 awards given out were sponsored by various colleges, faculty, staff, administration, the Board of Education, community members, and civic organizations. Without the generous financial support of these people, the awards would not be possible. Thank you! Congratulations to Lesly and Tabetha, as well as all of the student recipients.

~High School Honor Society: The FPCS Chapter of the National Honor Society inducted new members in a ceremony on May 3rd. After a welcome by NHS Vice President Kiernan Briggs, the NHS president Alex Bleichner led the ceremonial lighting of the candles. Each candle represented one of the foundations of the National Honor Society: Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character. Each of this year's inductees has been a positive influence on the Fort Plain High School. The students inducted this year were: Harrison Abrams, Bryce Boylan, Elizabeth Doxtater, Travis Herringshaw, Hans Hudyncia, Caitlyn Porter, Emily Potter, Jamie Putnam, Edward Rolle, Haleigh Sammons, Hannah Staples, Brianna Swartz, Michael Thomas, Robert Thomas IV, Kendra Trembley, Brandy Walters, Cheyann Walters, and Steven Yager.

~Elementary Honor Society: The Harry Hoag School Chapter of the National Elementary Honor Society will hold the first annual induction ceremony on July 18th at 6:00 p.m. in the auditorium at the Jr/Sr High School. The following students were selected on the basis of scholarship & leadership, service & character: Zavia Allen, Molli Bates, Troy Butler, Jacob Fuhs, Grace Hoffman, Robert Jordan, Olivia Kennedy, Owin Landry, Ella Logan, Sarah Paradiso, Este Smith, Megan Telfer, Levi Thomas, Matthew Travis, Landen VanAlstine, Seth Wintermute, and Rachel Zuppardi. Congratulations to everyone!

~Math 24 Tournament: Harry Hoag students in grades 4-6 recently faced off in a 'Math 24' tournament, which is a challenging math fluency contest. The students participated in three rounds of play, and then a total score was calculated. The final four then faced off in order to crown an ultimate winner in a final round. The 1st place winner was sixth grader Kaylee Sanders! 2nd place went to Rylee Herron, 3rd place was Anthony Paradiso, and 4th place went to Jeffery Wilday. Each student in the finals took home a Math 24 drawstring bag, and Kaylee received a gold medal for her first place win. The first-ever tournament was put together by Mrs. Machemer, and refereed by Mr. Hutchinson. There are already plans in place to make this an annual event.

~Congratulations Harry Hoag School Students of the Month for May: Marcus Dunbar-Eller, Zachary Hayner, Koby Herron, Mercedes Hogan, Madison Lewis, Kristin Sanders, and Brady Spaulding. Great job, everyone!

~~ACTIVITIES ABOUND~~

~Prom 2015: Midnight Masquerade: Students celebrated this year's prom in mysterious style, entering coronation in sparkling masks and hiding their faces until the moment that it was time to reveal. The ceremony concluded with the coronation of Prom King Kiernan Briggs and Queen Briannah Florian. They were joined by their court: Evan Searles, Aiden VanLoan, Alex Bleichner, Xavier Lanier, Liza Hudyncia, Chelsea Shultis, Julia Rodriquez, and Tatiana Curry. The junior class then crowned their Prince McKay Nare and Princess Soren Shirley. Their court featured: Jon Calbet, Andrew Hanifin, Todd Christman, Noah Sweet, Jacob Kennedy, Kendra Trembley, Emily Potter, Blaik Horning, and Haileigh Sammons.

~Reading Challenge: On May 29th, forty-one first graders, along with their teachers and families, celebrated the conclusion of a successful Reading Challenge. During the month of May, the first grade students read 1,121 books on their own time! Each student was encouraged to read at least 15 books at home and complete a book log. Students who completed the challenge were invited to bring their families to a special pizza party celebration. Participating students were each awarded a certificate and a brand new book. Former teachers, Mrs. Diane Reynolds and Mrs. Judy Sinner, were special guests at the event and each shared a favorite story with the crowd. The celebration was sponsored by the Fort Plain PTA.

~Mock Trial Team: The 2015 Mock Trial Team competed at the Fonda County Courthouse earlier this spring. The team presented a case as the prosecution, and defended against another team. Students serve as attorneys, witnesses, and experts, and spend weeks doing research and preparing arguments. The 2015 team was: Brianna Swartz, Hans Hudyncia, Lexi Veitch, Lesly Hazzard, Robert Thomas, Michael Thomas, Zoe D'Arcangelis, Sean Staples, Mackenzie Stevens, Beth Doxtater, Ed Rolle, Jacob Thomas, and Julia Rodriquez.

~Talented & Gifted Wrap Up: This year's elementary Talented & Gifted Program, under the direction of Miss Budzik and Mrs. VanGorder, allowed many students to experience the intrinsic rewards that accompany personal gain from hard work, and also the satisifaction one gets from giving back to the community. "Chapter Chats" allowed students in grades 1-3 to experience and appreciate some of their favorite stories, by recreating the plots in the form of artistic shadow boxes and puppet theater productions. The "Engineers of Tomorrow" included 4th-6th grade students who competed in the strongest bridge competition, after researching and designing several bridge styles from popsicle sticks. The group also explored alternate energy sources and constructed a variety of apparatuses that were powered by clean energy. "Student Council" was busy all year, with students running dances and holding Elf Day and Leprechaun Day. The council purchased a hockey table, foosball table, and games - and provided monetary support and advertisement for many school-based projects and activities. Finally, the "Caring Kids" club reached out to the community in several ways. They held a canned food drive, made centerpieces for the Palatine Nursing Home, collected items for the Ayes Animal Shelter, and wrote letters to veterans. They also recognized some super important people within the schools, sending letters and small gifts of appreciation throughout the school year.

~Can Tab Collection: Once again, the entire school community has been collecting aluminum container tabs to raise money for the Shriners of Utica. The tabs are found on soft drink cans and other food items. The money received from tab recycling is used to buy medical and non-medical items for Shriners Hospitals for Children. In the past, the tab collection has enabled the purchase of items such as a trailer for a hospital x-ray van, stretcher chairs, two-way radios, traction equipment, intravenous equipment, books and other items. High School math teacher Deborah Waner coordinates the collection each year, initiating the project as a way to say "thank you" to the Shriners for obtaining a wheelchair, walker and braces for her son, Jordan. "These tabs will help handicapped children get the equipment they need," she recently said. Any members of the community who wish to donate their collected tabs may drop them off at either school or at the NBT Bank branch in Fort Plain. Tabs are collected throughout the year, and donated each spring. Donations are always welcome!

~Girls on the Run: Thirty-three elementary girls participated in this year's Girls on the Run program! Running and physical activities were a focus, with the girls setting goals and learning healthy living habits that will last a lifetime. Throughout the spring, the group played fun games and activities which helped them to learn to recognize their own strengths and positive attributes. The program culminated with a 5K run on June 7th in Cooperstown, with other Girls on the Run teams from around the area. This year's team was coached by volunteers: Patty Sweet, Tracey Conover, Stephanie Paradiso, Caitlin Baker, Katie Jordan, Heather Hogan, Deanna Cook, Kathy Machemer, Casey Shults and Amy Bartholomew.

~Jump Rope for Heart: On April 17th, elementary students jumped all over heart disease and stroke by participating in Jump Rope for Heart. The students raised over $600 for the American Heart Association. "I'm so pleased with the success of our first event," said Mrs. Fries, PE teacher and program coordinator. "We all had lots of fund, and the kids enjoyed learning about the importance of physical activity and how they can play a role in savings lives." Karissa Lambert was the top fundraiser, and Josephina Carcasole won the Best Effort Award medal. All of the students did a wonderful job and the hope is to continue on by making Jump Rope for Heart an annual event.

~Shark Tank: Mrs. VanGorder's and Mrs. Bartholomew's fourth graders recently ptiched their ideas for new inventions or innovations to five "shark" judges. After all the research and thought put into their projects, the kids stood their ground as the sharks grilled them with questions before putting their offers on the table. What a great learning experience!

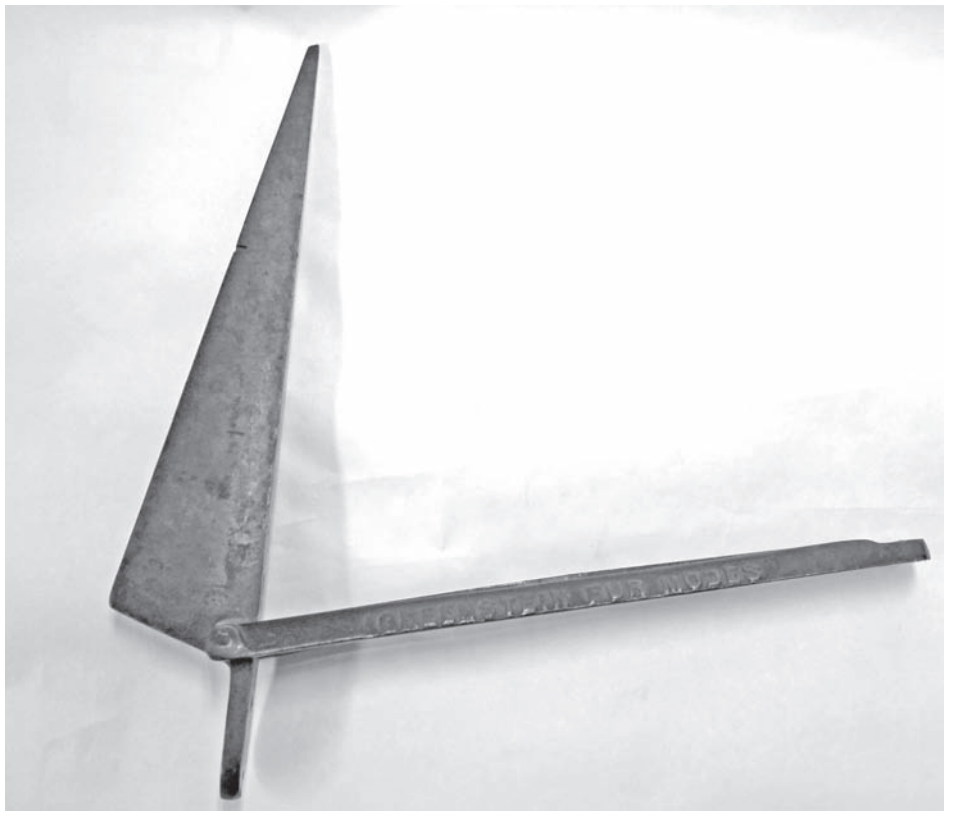
Whatchamacallits



The use of fur as a fashion statement was popular at the turn of 20th century, achieving its highest exposure during the latter half of the roaring 20s and early 30s.

With more men and women wearing fur, more devices were need to manipulate the fur into clothing, jackets, hats, gloves and boots.

This Whatchamacallit is an item from that same time period, a device created by Alexander S. Greenstein in 1930.

Mr. Greenstein wrote in his U.S. Patent application "My invention is mainly used on fur collars, bodies of fur coats along their waist lines or similar places, where it is desired to give shape or fullness to the piece in question without extra cuts, seams and so on."

Over the course of the next several weeks, Mr. Greenstein created a few different fur-stretching tools, all built on this similar design.

His patents were approved some months later and still work today.
