The HEARTH. It's the place where families gather, a place to entertain. It's seen families grow and celebrate for centuries. It's provided warmth, a place to cook food that nourishes both body and soul. It's a place to relax and let the stress of the day melt away. It's a place for romance and a place that comforts. It's mantle holds the photos of our children, our vacations, our parents. Memories.

It's the HEART of the home.

You see, it's MORE than just a fireplace or a stove to us. We truly believe that no house is a home without one. For 18 years we have worked to build a business that sells a product that not just provides warmth and value, but creates memories. Fully certified and trained in every aspect of the business, we strive to make sure that our customers are 100% satisfied with their purchase now... and for many generations to come.

PATRIOT DAY

Honoring those impacted by September 11

September 11, 2001 is a day permanently etched in history. 9-11 carries profound meaning for many people and stands in infamy along with events like Pearl Harbor and the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy and Martin Luther King, Jr. The attacks on 9-11 resulted in a total of 2,996 fatalities. Among those were the victims on the four planes, civilians working in the towers and on the ground, military personnel and civilians in the Pentagon, and first-responders to the scenes. It is believed that at least 200 people in the World Trade Center fell or jumped to their deaths from the burning towers because rescue was improbable at or above points of impact on the towers. Along with the World Trade Center primary towers, many other buildings in the area were destroyed or badly damaged from the attack. Many buildings were condemned. The Pentagon suffered serious damage as well.

Thousands of first responders and civilians entered the affected buildings to search for or help people exit the carnage. As of 2010, it is believed that more than 800 of these responders have also died, some say from illnesses related to their heroic efforts.

While the world is quick to focus on the extensive damage and loss of life that ensued as a result of this terrible day, it also is important to focus on the survivors and those who risked their own lives to save people from burning and collapsing buildings. There are a number of ways to honor the legacy of these brave people.

- Establish a memorial at your home, in a neighborhood park or at a place of worship. While many memorials exist, there is certainly room for more memorials devoted to the heroes of September 11.
- Host a family get-together on or around September 11. Celebrate the life of those people who were lost on that day and focus on the positive memories.
- Initiate a scholarship fund in memory of a lost relative or friend. Many businesses or even the place of employment of the deceased may be willing to contribute money to the effort. This way the individual's name will live on and be associated with something positive for years to come.

- Volunteer time at a firehouse in the area or with an EMT unit. Volunteer EMTs and fire fighters are in short supply. Becoming a part of one of these units enables people to help others.

- Survivors can share their stories with school children or others, imparting knowledge about the events as they unfolded. This is a strong lesson in American history and bravery.

- Make a donation to a charity that offers financial support to those impacted by the events of 9-11. Be sure to check out the charity to ensure that funds are appropriated properly.

- Plan a visit to downtown New York City to see the progress that has been made in rebuilding the area, and visit the memorial that has opened to honor those who lost their lives.

While September 11, 2001 will live in infamy as a traumatic and horrific moment in American history, people can focus on the positive aspect of the heroes and find ways to honor their memories.

TOWN OF EPHRATAH ZONING BOARD MEETING LAST CALL

The workshop on August 15th had a good attendance. It's clear the only people who are aware of zoning are opposed to it, and a large amount of people are still UNWARE of it. FACT: There was only ONE survey conducted, which was completed on Feb. 15, 2013. There were only 18 replies and they overwhelmingly selected LEAVE EPHRATAH alone. Why were there only 18 replies to the survey? Is it because the Town Board didn't like the trend and no further attempt to reach out to us was made?

NEXT: The editor of the Leader/Herald stated that zoning would be good for us. Mr. Editor, you do not live in Ephratah, so please don't tell us what's good for us. Take your reporters, camera crews and the Industrial Development Agency on a tour of Gloversville. It is as disgraceful as the South Bronx. For example, Route 30 and Harrison Street have collapsing buildings, derelict tractor trailers, a filthy pond, all unfenced right across the street from one of your own buildings!

On August 15th, the Leader/Herald interviewed Mr. Bradt, Town Supervisor, that was enlightening. It seems Mr. Bradt has already made his decision in favor of zoning well before the Town Board Meeting set for September 14. Mr. Bradt went on to say, in the interview, that the people do not want any more rules. So why, Mr. Bradt would you support zoning without the consent of the people of EPHRATAH? You were voted into your position by the people to protect us and represent us. In order to represent what we the people want, you need to vote against zoning. It is not the rules we're against. We are against the 1000 acres and the 11,000 feet of road frontage you wanted zoned COMMERCIAL. Find a town that prospered from zoning. They only got more rules, taxes and a fatter government.

To our Concilman: "We the people" DO NOT want this! It is you who SWORE to "Uphold, protect and defend" the will of the people. Mr. Councilman....we have NO VOTE. We have NO SHOW OF HANDS, and we have NO REFERENDUM. We are just taxpayers who are powerless over YOUR VOTE, so please DO NOT betray our trust. This is not a vision, this is a nightmare.

Neil Cronin

Fort Plain's 4th annual River Through Time

by Elizabeth A. Tomlin
 Extreme temperatures coupled with high humidity and the threat of severe thunderstorms — and a conflict with other events scheduled on the same day — may have been the cause of low numbers in attendance at the Mohawk Valley Collective's 4th annual Standing Strong~ River Through Time benefit, held in Fort Plain's Haslett Park. However, organizers were not discouraged by the small turnout and folks that did show up enjoyed the entertainment, food and raffles. "It was a solid event, with lots of really great volunteers," said MVC's Tolga Morawski. "But, attendance was down from last year with a lot of people citing the high-temperatures or the abundance of events on the same day. The final costs aren't all in yet, but we're looking at a small loss overall." The event featured a free outdoor concert, with musicians Cosby Gibson, Tom Staudle, Caitlin Bingham, and the Kennesaw Mountain Boys. The sound system was provided by Quantum Audio Productions' technician Joe Gyurik.

Morawski said the musicians all received a great deal of praise from attendees, with Cosby Gibson "sounding like a latter day Joni Mitchell." "The Kennesaw Mountain Boys also received a lot of praise for their diversity, with some originals, some rock, blues and country," Morawski commented.

The event also featured a Pulled Pork dinner, a dunking booth — loaned to MVC by St. Johnsville Cosby Gibson, Tom Staudle and Caitlin Bingham performed at the event.

Event organizer Tolga Morawski checks in with sound technician Joe Gyurik, of Quantum Audio Productions.

Photos by Elizabeth A. Tomlin

St. Johnsville loaned their dunking booth to the event, where volunteer Linda Kellett waited to get dunked.

Raffles for a kayak, a hunting blind and a hybrid bicycle were highlights of the event.

Sticklers Answer

O beautiful for heroes proved
In liberating strife,
Who more than self their country loved,
And mercy more than life!
America! America!
May God thy gold refine
Till all success be nobleness,
And ev'ry gain divine!
~ Katharine Lee Bates
America, the Beautiful (verse 3)

PUZZLECARD

DIVIDE AND CONQUER! Draw a square on a sheet of paper and challenge your friends to divide it into six smaller squares using four straight lines. When they give up, finish the puzzle as shown above.

A TRICKY TEST! See if you can arrange the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 into a math expression where, by multiplying two of these digits by one of the other digits, you will get a product that is equal to the remaining two digits.

FIND THE SEVEN WORDS PUZZLE! In the word square at the right, we've removed six of the letters to spell out the word "STREET." See if you can replace these letters in the squares so that you will have four three-letter words across and three four-letter words down. Time limit: 60 seconds.

DON'T "WHIFF" ON THIS ONE!
It's time to test your baseball knowledge. In our puzzle grid there is room to list nine cities that host a baseball team. Below you'll find a list of team nicknames. See if you can identify the cities that each team plays for.

baseball team. Below you'll find a list of team nicknames. See if you can identify the cities that each team plays for.

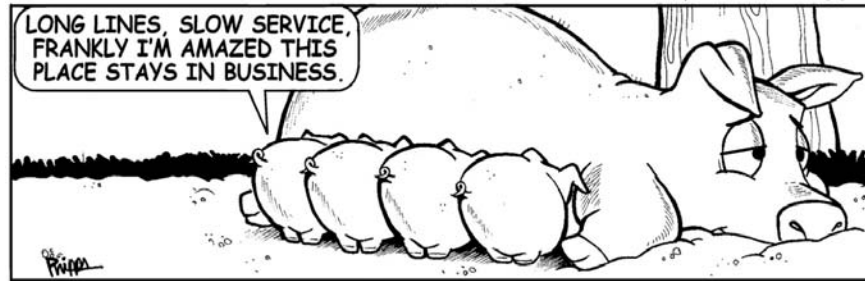

- Illustrated by David Coulson
1. Orioles
 2. Cubs
 3. Astros
 4. Angels
 5. Expos
 6. Brewers
 7. Red Sox
 8. Blue Jays
 9. Padres

There is a dark frame around one of the columns in the grid. If you correctly name the nine cities asked for, the letters in this frame, top to bottom, will spell out the name of a great, old-time baseball pitcher.

ANSWERS: 1. Baltimore, 2. Chicago, 3. Houston, 4. Anaheim, 5. Montreal, 6. Milwaukee, 7. Boston, 8. Toronto, 9. San Diego. The pitcher's name in the dark frame is (Clayton) Kershaw.

Pause for purslane

On the whiteboard propped up outside a vendor's booth at the local farmers market, scrawled in dry erase marker, was a word I did not recognize: purslane. Everything else on the board was easily recognizable as a food product: tomato, zucchini, peppers—but purslane? The word sounded like the name of a forgotten Shakespearean heroine, or a brand of moderately priced leather shoes. Not a type of produce.

Curious, I asked to see a sample. After a few seconds of looking at the reddish stems and dark green, oblong leaves. I realized I had seen them many times before. This was a common garden weed. I'd seen all my life. I used to pull it out of the garden while helping my grandmother with her potato plants. Even now, there was some growing by the foundation of my house, and in the gaps in the pavement out front. It never crossed my mind to look up this plant's name, or even consider that a person could grow, pick, and sell it. I decided to buy some and try it out. That option certainly seemed wiser than just pulling it out from the cracks in the sidewalk!

At home, I used some as a salad topping, and later mixed it into a zucchini dish. It added some light spicy crunch, and I imagined that it would also work well as a taco topping, or as a great way to accent a pork or pasta dish. While I looked up recipes, I learned that purslane is more than just a way to make everyday food feel fancy—it is also boasts many significant health benefits. It turns out that this vegetable, which I had treated as a trash plant for three decades, is rich in:

- Omega-3 fatty acids (more than in many fish oils!)
- Vitamin A (contains more than most leafy green vegetables)
- B-complex vitamins
- Minerals such as calcium, iron, and manganese

Purslane does have its drawbacks. The plant's high concentration of oxalic acid may result in an increased risk of some people developing calcium-oxalate kidney stones if they consume purslane in bulk. Purslane consumption is not advised for pregnant women, as it is classified as an emmenagogue

Canajoharie Music on Mainstreet's Grand Finale leaves audience dazed with 'Last Waltz'

by Elizabeth A. Tomlin
Attendees at Canajoharie's grand finale of the 2016 Music on Mainstreet were left dazed by the spectacular performance of the Rev Tor Band and 'Friends' rendition of 'The Band's' Last Waltz from the late 1970's.

"It was two years in the making," said Music on Mainstreet President Bob Bordieri. "I am happy that it went so well."

Bordieri describes the Rev Tor Band as a touring band that does their own brand of music as well as the Last Waltz project. "I guess you would categorize them as a 'jam band'. They link up with Music in Common, another non-profit for these shows. Todd Mack is a musician and the creator of Music in Common."

Those familiar with the Canadian band, 'The Band', may also be familiar with their impressive farewell Last Waltz concert that took place on Thanksgiving Day 1976 in San Francisco, where they were joined by some of the biggest names in music at that time, including Bob Dylan, Neil Young, Eric Clapton, Joni Mitchell, Van Morrison, Ronnie Hawkins and Neil Diamond. The event was later turned into a movie; released in 1978.

New England 'Rev Tor Band'. Rev Tor has worked with members of The Grateful Dead, Phish, The Allman

Brothers, and New Riders of the Purple Sage and performed at festivals and concerts with The Jerry Garcia Band, Los Lobos, Leon Russell and have toured regularly with Grateful Dead keyboardist Tom Constanten.

Well-respected, local musician Pat Clark of St. Johnsville attended the Music on Mainstreet event. Clark, who had seen 'The Band' in concert before they broke up and had seen the original 'Last Waltz' movie, said he didn't know what to expect from the concert.

"I thought I could leave early if I wanted to," said Clark. "I didn't know about the group, I only saw what was on the flier." Clark stayed for the entire show. "I thought they did a very good job with it- it was very good!" he stressed.

Bordieri says overall attendance this season was "great!"

"The first two shows brought in about 300 people each. The Magic show was also great fun. We will be bringing that back next season. Plus, every show was outside, except for the last one."

Music on Mainstreet founding member Phyllis Lapi announced that she is retiring.

"She has done a wonderful job," said Bordieri. "She will be missed."

The roster for 2017 has already been filled, with a major change in scheduling, cutting back to just August shows for several reasons.

"One, it will be a bit less stressful for our staff," said Bordieri. "Folks tend to go away in July and that can be a burden sometimes. It will also make it easier for scheduling with the high school as far as rain dates — there is less conflict of events in August. And finally, and, I think, the best reason, we will be able to book some higher end artists for one 'big show' per season if we eliminate the July shows."

Bordieri says that 2017 "promises to be one of our best yet!" Stay tuned!

Whatchamacallits

Our Whatchamacallit for this week was a real whatchamacallit for several days in our office. Then our veteran Whatchamacallit supplier showed up, and he was stumped — for about 5 minutes. You could see the wheels turning inside his head, searching his vast knowledge of manual and mechanical implements.

The feature of this item that kept folks guessing are the numerous hinges, articulations, and swivels. It was a real "digit pincher" and you had to be careful while inspecting it — parts would swing about and shift without warning.

Once mounted in the proper way (see thumbnail inset), it makes perfect sense. Our Whatchamacallit is the handle and plunger mounting for an old wooden washing machine.

I'm not sure of the technical term, but I found a youtube demonstration at: www.youtube.com/watch?v=stFoSRV_ZNM if you would like to see it in action.

Do you have your own Whatchamacallit?

for the event — raffles, face painting and other activities.

Raffles at the event drew in a number of folks and Morawski reported winners of the raffles were: Qedence Jones won the Old Town kayak, complete with oar and life jacket and valued at $500; Bill Walsh won the Trek 8.2 hybrid bicycle valued at $520; and the Hunting Blind was won by Jeff Jones.

"I think we were all very thankful the event went off without it raining. The weather from a week out was predicted to be thunderstorms for most of the day," said Morawski. "We had just completed cleaning up when high winds zoomed through the park and the sky let loose with thunder, lightning and a downpour, so we were

by Pastor Dan West

Would you say that you have a life that would be described as abundant, superior, very high, even above measure? Looking only at the negatives in our life, few of us would say yes.

Jesus, in John 10:10 tells us that he came to give His "sheep" life, and that more abundantly! In the next verse Jesus tells that he came to give His life for His sheep, that His sheep could live. Clearly He is speaking here of the eternal life we believers in Christ have (life being defined as never being separated from the Lord).

He continues to indicate that the life He gives is more abundant — superior — to any life without Him. Our eternal life begins at the moment we make the decision to trust Christ to forgive our sins — the moment we are born spiritually (born again).

So the physical life we live our remaining days on earth can be far superior than had we not accepted Christ as our Savior.

How about you? Are you living the abundant life that Christ has provided for you?
