Presentation recognizes local men who fought in 1812

Historian Lorraine Whiting reports on local men who were drafted from Carlisle and Charleston to fight in the Battle of 1812 at Sackett's Harbor.

by Elizabeth A. Tomlin

The Town of Charleston Historian Lorraine Whiting gave an informative lecture on the 1812 Battle of Sackett's Harbor, recognizing three local men who took part in the battle, during a well-attended presentation at the Charleston Historical Society headquarters in the old Baptist Church on Polin Road, on Sept. 18.

Whiting reported on conditions leading up to the war, geographical aspects of the bay and surrounding village, and the ships used in battle.

"The British wanted to take over," Whiting said. "There was a brisk battle back and forth for about two months."

She reported that John Herrick Jr., who was drafted at Carlisle, NY, was among the local men involved in the battle. Herrick was in Capt. Horning's Co. of Militia, serving two months as a private and one month as a waiter to Adjutant Briggs. When taken ill with measles, Herrick was discharged as an invalid from Sackett's Harbor on Nov. 30, 1812, by Gen. Dodge.

Another local man mentioned in the presentation was Robert Dunlap, who was drafted from Charleston on June 18, 1812. Dunlap was in Capt. Asa Cady's Co., 11th Militia, 4th Brigade, under Gen.

Dodge and discharged from Sackett's Harbor, December 1812.

A third man, Thomas R. Brand, Corporal, was drafted from Charleston on Aug. 25, 1812. Brand, who may have been friends with Dunlap, also served under Capt. Asa Cady's Co., 11th Regiment NY Militia. Brand was discharged from Sackett's Harbor Dec. 30, 1812.

Whiting reported that her research showed these men received reimbursement at a later date for the clothing and any supplies they brought to battle with them and claimed. After Local students and renown violinist Leo Milman were featured in this year's Musical Potpourri IX held at the historical Palatine Church on Sept. 25.

"The plan for this year's Musical Potpourri IX began when Canajoharie Orchestra Director Leo Milman offered to play his violin at the concert and also to bring his group of eight student string performers," reported Norma Bowley, event director.

Bowley said that many of the "Summer Strings" students play several instruments and sing, which was evident at the concert.

Summer Strings students included Sherry Huang, Emily Oeser, Robert Frazier, Ethan VanDerwerken, Natasha Milman, Samuel Cornwell, Samantha Field and Alex Sydow.

With the addition of Canajoharie student Jared Paratore, tenor; Pastor David Bowley, baritone; soprano Dorothy Morrison; and pianist/organist Norma Bowley, the program was outstanding.

ley's performance of an original hymn he had written, titled Redeemed; Summer Strings student Robert Frazier's spectacular solo performance of Amazing Grace and an impressive trombone solo by Summer Strings student Alex Sydow rounded out the program.

For a special treat, Leo Milman performed a solo on a violin he said he was playing in public for the first time.

The program also included classical instrumental music; the spiritual There is a Balm in Gilead; The Little Brown

Three ways to conserve fuel during your daily commute

Commuting is a part of daily life for many working professionals. According to the U.S. Census Bureau's 2011 American Community Survey, the average American spends 25 minutes commuting to work each day. However, Citi's 2015 ThankYou Premier Commuter Index says the average commute time in the United States is 45 minutes. The reasons for that disparity are unknown, though if one accepts the latter statistic as more accurate than the years-old Census Bureau data, it's fair to say Americans spend far more time getting to work than their neighbors to the north. But commutes in Canada also can be lengthy, as Canada's National Household Survey found that, in 2011, commuters in Canada spent an average of roughly 25 minutes traveling to work each day.

While many people enjoy their daily commutes, feeling it's a time to prepare for the day ahead and, if using public transportation, to relax and let someone else do the work, it's fair to say the majority of commuters would like to spend less time getting to and from work. Many would also like to spend less money getting to and from their offices, and finding ways to conserve fuel is an effective way to do just that.

1. Maintain your vehicle.

Poorly maintained vehicles endure undue stress that can be prevented by adhering to routine maintenance schedules. Peruse your vehicle's owner's manuals to determine the recommended intervals to change the oil and replace the air filter and spark plugs. These simple maintenance tasks are easy and inexpensive, but they make it easier for engines to run smoothly and make efficient use of fuel.

2. Keep tires properly inflated.

Properly inflated tires reduce drag on the engine. Engine drag makes the vehicle work hard to move, and that wastes fuel. But the type of tires a vehicle has also can affect how efficiently it uses fuel. According to the Transportation Research Board, tires that reduce rolling resistance by 10 percent can improve gas mileage by as much as 2 percent. While that figure might seem insignificant, that 2 percent savings can add up to a substantial amount of money for commuters who spend 50 minutes every day getting to and from work.

3. Drive a vehicle with stop/start technology.

Stop/start systems, in which engines shut off automatically when drivers brake and restart automatically when the driver lifts his or her foot off the brake pedal, can make more efficient use of fuel. Once exclusive to hybrid cars, stop/start technology is now more widely available and can cut back on fuel consumption and vehicle emissions. That's especially attractive to eco-conscious commuters who live in big cities where stop-and-start traffic is unavoidable. What's more, many modern air conditioning compressors operate off electricity and not via a car's engine, meaning vehicles with stop/start technology will stay cool in the summer even when the engine shuts off.

Commuting to and from work may not seem like the most eco-friendly daily ritual. But there are ways to commute and conserve fuel at the same time.

Address windshield damage promptly

Windshields are designed to protect drivers and their vehicles from wind and other natural elements while the cars are in motion.

Windshields are made from tempered glass, which is processed by controlled thermal or chemical treatments to increase its strength compared to normal glass. While relatively strong for a piece of glass, windshields are not impervious to damage. All it takes is a single rock or piece of road debris to be kicked up from the roadway and hit the windshield to cause a problem.

Every day, motorists encounter pebbles or other small missiles that bounce up from the road and come in contact with their windshields. Many deflect with no problem, but under high speeds, debris can cause chips, dings, and even cracks in the windshield.

Cracks easily spread from road vibration and heat and can compromise the integrity of the windshield. If your car's windshield is cracked and it shatters during a collision, you and your passengers are at great risk of injury. In addition, police officers can write tickets if windshields appear to be unsafe. So it's in drivers' best interests to repair damaged windshields promptly.

Drivers may be able to repair small dings themselves with a do-it-yourself windshield kit available at automotive retailers. If a crack is less than six to 12 inches long, it can probably be repaired as well. However, more significant damage will require that the entire windshield be replaced.

Country Preacher

by Pastor Dan West

Psalm 107 is a psalm of thanksgiving, but it also shows how God deals with people — those who love Him and those who don't. As you read the psalm you see four groups of people who have turned their backs on God and are in misery as a result.

In verses 6, 13, 19, and 28 it says "...they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and He delivered (or saved) them out of their distress." In verses 33-35 some of these distresses are named; floods, drought, and famine.

Why does God allow these distresses? So people will turn to the only Sovereign God for salvation. Has our society today degenerated too far to get this? Watch for more floods and droughts.

Presentation from A16

many years, they were able to receive parcels of land and a pension from the government – once they proved they were actually in the battle.

Herrick, who farmed 100 acres and was a blacksmith at Charleston Four Corners, received a warrant for 80 acres of land in August 1855. In March 1872, he received a pension of $8 per month until his death Nov. 03, 1886, when he was believed to be 94 years old.

In 1850, at 58, Dunlap received Bounty Land of 80 acres. At 79, he applied for a pension and received $8 per month until his death on Feb. 3, 1879.

Brand, who was a farmer and auctioneer at Charleston Four Corners during his lifetime, received 80 acres of Bounty Land in March 1851. At 78 years old he applied for a pension, eventually receiving $8 per month until his death June 4, 1879.

Charleston Historical Society will be hosting their next program, "A World Underground," on Oct. 23, at 2 p.m., with guest speaker Laura Shaw. Call 518-829-7592 for more information.

Church in the Vale, by W. Pitts, which was written in 1870 about a church still standing in Nashua, Iowa; hymns that the attendees joined in on; and songs from musicals, including the The King and I, which will be performed by Fort Plain - Canajoharie Drama Club March 24-26, 2017, in the Arkell Performing Arts Center.

Bowley said she sends a special thanks to Dorothy Morrison for filling in as soprano in one song, and to "our faithful audience, our talented performers and the dedicated Palatine Society members for making this another enjoyable summer concert series."

A special "thank you" also goes out to retiring President of the Palatine Society, Reverend Kenneth Dingman.

A "welcome" and "thank you," is extended to the incoming President, Reverend William Hodgetts.

The Palatine Society has been in existence since the 1950's. New members are welcome.

In the battle against breast cancer, early detection is a woman's most powerful weapon. In fact, according to the National Cancer Institute, when breast cancer is detected in an early, localized stage, the five-year survival rate is 98 percent. That's why it is so important for all women to make breast health awareness a regular part of their healthcare routine.

Growing Awareness To Save Lives

A mammogram can detect breast cancer in its earliest, most treatable stages, and many major health organizations recommend annual mammogram screenings for women beginning at age 40. Experts also recommend clinical breast exams and breast self-exams to check for breast abnormalities on a regular basis. Any woman noticing unusual changes in her breasts should contact her healthcare provider immediately. Women of all ages should speak to their doctor about his or her personalized recommendations for breast cancer screening.

As we recognize Breast Cancer Awareness Month, we remember the women who have lost their lives to the disease, and we voice our support for those in the fight of their lives.

Share the aware on Facebook and Twitter to show your support for Breast Cancer Awareness Month this October. Share Tweets and posts from facebook.com/nameorg or @nameorg to help save lives with important screening information, healthy lifestyle tips, early detection guidelines and more.

Whatchamacallits

This week, our Whatchamacallit comes by way of Arriama Mattlock, an acquaintance of our usual supplier, Skip Barshied. It is a Star Tool Co. transmission band compression tool for Ford Model T vehicles.

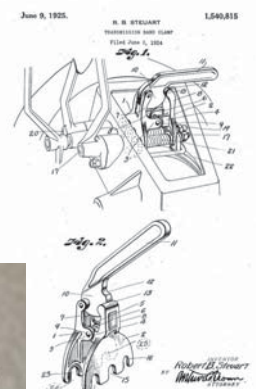

There was no visible patent number on our Whatchamacallit, however there was a patent issued to Robert B. Steuart (US 1540815 A) on June 9, 1925 for Model T transmission band clamps which, except for the handle, looks very similar to our Star Tool item.

The original handle was a single lever type as shown in the patent application diagram. The Star Tool Co. modified it to use the tong-style handle. Perhaps that was more useful in the lifting action during inspection and/or repair.

In his patent application, Mr. Steuart describes the purpose of his invention as an "efficient tool for compressing and holding the transmission springs just referred to so that the cover may be easily put on. The device is so constructed that it may also serve as a handle for lifting the transmission while inspection, repairs or assembly is being made..."

Apparently, on the Model T, the springs on the clutch shaft, reverse shaft and brake shaft inside the transmission casing, tended to expand to the point where the cover couldn't be easily replaced without this useful tool.

Do you have your own Whatchamacallit?
