Why Buy Local?

Support yourself

When you buy from an independent, locally owned business, significantly more of your money is used to make purchases from other local businesses, service providers and farms -- continuing to strengthen the economic base of the community.

Create more good jobs

Small local businesses are the largest employer nationally and in our community, provide the most jobs to residents.

Get better service

Local businesses often hire people with a better understanding of the products they are selling and take more time to get to know customers.

Invest in community

Local businesses are owned by people who live in this community, are less likely to leave, and are more invested in the community's future.

Put your taxes to good use

Local businesses in town centers require comparatively little infrastructure investment and make more efficient use of public services.

June 7, 2014

Hello Again,

This is not a Pat and Mike story. It did not even happen on the old sod in Ireland. The event was witnessed by a very reliable source. It happened right here in the Mohawk Valley near St. Johnsville. However, it is a Pat story. This chatter is basically true, embellished with just a bit of blarney.

A man (the source) and his wife, Pat, were working on their lawn. One of them was spreading grass seed. The other was trimming. Pat stood with her back to the road when a poor, defenseless chicken from across the road, probably spotting the grass seed, came across the road and walked up near Pat. With that, Pat's husband pointed at the approaching defenseless poor chicken and said, "Pat, your friend is here again," or something like that.

With that, faster than a track team star, Pat ran to the porch, grabbed a corn broom, and challenged the unwanted friend. Swinging the broom over her head while screaming like an Irish banshee, she challenged the two-footed, two-winged invader. Her husband — a man true to his word — said she nearly caught up to the chicken. With that the poor and maybe starving bird let out a blood-curdling squawk and flew back over the road. It has been reported the poor bird's alarm squawk still rings in her husband's ears and was last seen hiding behind the neighbor's house.

I was sort of hesitant to share this chatter as I was concerned Pat might swing that corn broom at her husband. He can't fly. Come to think of it, neither can I.

While chatting about this incident with my wife she warned Hello Again might become obligated to found a fund to protect defenseless chickens.

According to the Times daily newspaper, the Dolgeville Town Fathers are preparing to pass a law so that every house holder can have up to eight hens - no roosters. With nearly 1,000 houses in Dolgeville, each having hens that could grow up to 8,000 hens. Will Dolgeville, the former home of Daniel Green Slippers, become known as Henville? No roosters? Is that flagrant discrimination?

Just think if Noah, when loading up his ark, had picked up two chickens in Dolgeville — today there would be no Kentucky Fried Chicken or Brooks BBQ's — no roosters!

In Ireland my Aunt Phoebe asked Uncle Joe, "How do you want your egg this morning?" He answered, "Next to another one."

I'm having so much fun writing this chatter, I wish I was out there with you reading it. Come to think of it - 8,000 hens without a single boyfriend. Think of all of the squawks that could or will create.

Do you think the Licari's Big M up in Dolgeville should stock up with corn brooms?

Headline June 2014 News: Obama Orders Pollution Cuts. Hello Again is suggesting you be the judge.

Obama's plan would force a 30 percent cut in carbon dioxide emissions created by electrical power plants by the year 2030 from the 2005 levels. Naturally both thinking republicans and democrats and industry groups drew immediate scorn.

The E.P.A. projected this New Obama effort will cost up to 8.8 billion dollars annually. Environmental activists and others called it insufficiently strict to effect possible global warming. Tree huggers - tree huggers, gather around. Can we Americans afford to put all of our business world out of business to satisfy one man's political ambitions, or is it political jargon?

Now there is talk about a $15 per hour federal minimum wage. When the additional 20 percent, which all employers must pay, is added to the $15 per hour minimum wage (which will raise the cost to $18 per hour), how many 16-year old school age girls and boys do you think will find any kind of job paying $18 per hour which translates into $720 per week? I predict millions will not find employment.

You be the judge. Do you agree with Mr. Obama? Are you willing to pay higher and higher electric bills, lose more American jobs, and pay more for everything you buy? Do you think our country will need another lifetime politician as president or should the position be filled with a trained, experienced business man?

Imagine a good, honest, willing to work family man holding out his hand on Friday and receiving a paycheck. Now imagine that same good, honest, willing to work family man holding out his hand on Friday and not receiving a paycheck. It would appear our president refuses to even think on this subject.

Our president and many of his followers seem to think if they can add serious tax increases on to the backs of corporations and the so-called wealthy, raise the minimum wage so high that no one will be able to find employment, raise the cost of producing electric power to 100 percent of the U.S. manufacturers/employers - everything will come up like springtime posies.

When you were a kid, you may have thought that dollars grew on a money tree. Now kids know that it comes from automatic teller machines.

Many think they are a member of a very rich family with no end to money without work. Isn't their Uncle Sam willing to dole out all the money they need? He can keep on borrowing billions of dollars each year to balance his check book and the Chinese are so slow-minded they will keep on lending even when they learn, dear old Uncle Sam cannot pay it back.

Some mothers-in-law seem to specialize in finding fault or at least implying their daughter deserves something better. While visiting their only daughter's new home, her dear mother, that is her husband's only mother-in-law said, "I suppose it's okay but it looks terribly bare outside." With that he answered, "All the trees and shrubs are new and I hope they will grow before you come again."

Can you believe it is June already? Most lilacs have finished blooming. Farmers are working late into the night to get their corn and soybean crops planted. The clock keeps on ticking. Tomorrow will be the first day of the remainder of our lives. Plans made and not carried out are merely dreams and dreams of that type merely disappear like yesterday's clouds.

The little red three-wheeler has hit the road again smiling when it sees you waving as it rumbles by. Put a smile on everyone's face. Say, "Howdy neighbor, where did you get that silly hat?" - or something like that. You may get swatted with a corn broom but it's worth the chance.

Did you attend church last Sunday? No? Why not? God, with a church full of friends, was waiting for you. Just say yes - I'll be there next Sunday. God will smile, so will your friends.

~A Message From Board of Education President, Mary Beth Hudyncia: Thanks to all the community members who came out to vote in the annual school district election! Thank you for your support in approving the 2014-2015 school year budget. We are happy to be able to add three new staff members, one each in the social studies and special education departments, as well as a Library Media Specialist. This positive vote also allows us to purchase one full and one half-sized bus from the money we have set aside in a special reserve fund specifically for this purpose. The vote in favor of the library proposition will allow the Library Board of Trustees to continue to provide a critical service to members of the community. Congratulations to Mr. Fred Hutchinson, who has accepted the elementary principal position that is being vacated by the retirement of Mrs. Catherine Brucker. Mrs. Brucker, we appreciate your dedicated service for the last ten years.....wishing you the best! Finally, a BIG thank you to our present out-going BOE member, David Fredericks, who has dedicated 21 years of service to our district. He takes many years of experience and FPCS history with him. Please help us welcome our board member-elect, David Przestrzelski, at our reorganizational meeting on July 2nd. Hope to see you there!

~Varsity Spring Sports Reception: will be held Tuesday, June 10th at 6:30 p.m. in the Jr/Sr High School auditorium.

~June 13th & 14th Drama Club Play: The Fort Plain-Canajoharie Drama Club will present a middle school play, "Yearbook" on June 13th and 14th at the Fort Plain Jr/Sr High School. The play depicts high school life as seen through a yearbook; a roller coaster ride of ups and downs, but a ride filled with excitement, learning, and maturing. "Yearbook" will feature Canajoharie and Fort Plain students: Eliza Cechnicki, Zack Rogers, Vikki Wilday, Morgan Hurd, and Luke Duxtater. They are joined by Marcela Rivenburg, Barry Yerdon, Sarah LaComb, Sophia Rogers, Matthew Travis, and Rachel Zuppardi. Rounding out the cast are: Cameron Brownell, Keagan Ford, Zavia Allen, Emily Hurd, Molli Bates, Hannah Briggs, Hailey Hogan, and Kaylee Sanders. Playing the roles of teachers and parents are Canajoharie High School students Noah Watson and Cassie O'Connor. "Yearbook" is directed by Lauri Broady, with assistance from Michael Broady and student director Noah Watson. Club costumer Lisa Hill provided hand-designed t-shirts for the cast, featuring the different clubs and teams of fictitious Springdale High School. Kenny Travis provides technical support. The show will play at 7:00 p.m. on Friday, June 13th and Saturday, June 14th, at the Fort Plain Jr/Sr HS auditorium. Admission is $2 per person.

~Basketball Camp Signups: The Fort Plain boys' basketball program is holding a basketball camp July 14th - July 18th at the Harry Hoag Elementary School. The camp hours are 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. each day. The camp is open to any boy or girl from any school district. The cost is $75, which includes a camp t-shirt. Each day of the program will consist of skill development, improving individual and team play, various contests, and prizes. Visit the camp facebook page www.facebook.com/topperbasketball for information and links to the camp registration form, or contact Coach Russom at 993-4000 or email russom29@gmail.com

~Baseball Camp Signups: Fort Plain baseball coach Craig Phillips will host his annual summer baseball camp June 30-July 4 in Fort Plain. The camp will run each day from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. The focus of the camp will be skills, with stations for throwing, hitting, and catching. Daily scrimmages will also be held, and the camp will culminate with the annual rag-ball tournament. The camp is open to ages 6 and older. The cost is $100 per child, and $90 for each additional family member. To sign up for the camp, call Craig Phillips at 993-2564 or download the application at the link on the Fort Plain baseball website: hometeamsonline.com/toppers

~A Night in Paris: The Class of 2015 recently presented this year's Junior/Senior Prom, "A Night in Paris." The afternoon began for many with formal and candid photos being taken amidst the beautiful gardens of Arkell Hall. Then the promenade and coronation was held in the gym at the Harry Hoag School, with hundreds of friends and family in attendance. Students then traveled to the Fox Run Golf Club and Restaurant in Johnstown. Following the prom, the students went to the Fulton County YMCA in Johnstown, where they were able to participate in many sports and activities.

~Student Registration & Transfers: Registration of students new to the Fort Plain district will begin on July 1st. The registration office at the Harry Hoag School will be open Monday-Thursday from 7:30 a.m. - 2:30 p.m. To register students who have just moved into the district and will be in grades PK-6, please contact 993-4000 #3060. Be prepared to bring in proof of residence, the child's previous school information, a birth certificate, and immunization records. Due to some school registration offices being closed during the summer months, it is best to register your child as early as possible to avoid a time delay and the high volume of late August transfers. Families who are moving out of the district should also note that early registration into the new district will hasten the transfer process. Please notify the Harry Hoag School registration office of an intended move, so that staff can ready student records to be sent to the new district when a request is received.

~Track Season Concludes/Ahrens Breaks Records: Congratulations to the track teams for their efforts at Sectionals. A number of personal records were set. The boys team finished 7th and the girls team finished 13th. The teams combined for a total of four patches and fourteen ribbons. Several athletes went on to the state qualifying meet, where again personal and school records were set. Runner Jordan Ahrens broke two long-time school track records this season: Joe Mello's 3,000 meter record fell with a time of 9:27.8 and John Hoffman's 3,000 meter steeplechase record was broken with a time of 10:01.86. Congratulations Jordan!

~Scholar/Athlete Teams: The NYS Public High School Athletic Association recently announced the spring sports Scholar/Athlete Team Awards. Earning that high recognition were: Softball, Girls Track & Field, and Boys Track & Field.

~Congratulations Students of the Month: The following Jr/Sr High School students of the month have been named.....May: Jocelyn VanBuren, Kendall Kennedy, Zoe D'Arcangelis, Brianna Swartz, Brianna Florian, and Chris Arndt. June: Quinn Jones, Jason Huang, Kierra Reid, Mackenzie Andrews, Kiernan Briggs, and Kayla King.

~Community Garden: The children in Mrs. Paradiso's class, along with the children in Mrs. VanGorder and Mrs. Bartholomew's class, have teamed together to prepare and plant the community garden this year. The project started in early May with the weeding and soil preparation in the three large garden beds located behind the bus garage. On May 21st, the students planted a variety of vegetables including zucchini, yellow squash, tomatoes, cucumbers and broccoli. Students learned how important it is to carefully follow the directions regarding spacing and soil depth for each type of seed, to ensure maximum growth. The classes will continue to make frequent visits to the garden to water and maintain it, while monitoring the growth of the various plants. This hands-on, authentic learning experience was thoroughly enjoyed by all the kids. Now, they can't wait to witness the anticipated growth and enjoy eating the delicious vegetables that the garden produces.

~Elementary Holds Topper Field Day: Students in grades K-6 participated in a school-wide field day on May 30th at the sports complex. Each class came up with their own team nickname, slogan and signs. The Fort Plain PTA provided each student with a field day t-shirt in one of three colors. After gathering for team photos, the younger grades headed up to the fields for morning competition that included water relay, scavenger hunt, 3-legged race, obstacle course, tug of war, and more. Prizes were awarded to the winning team at each grade level. Everyone enjoyed a picnic lunch before heading back into school. Grades 4-6 then took the field after lunch, participating in many events that were highly spirited and competitive. Students cheered their classmates on, with each class hoping to come away with the championship title. The weather cooperated with a beautiful day, and the students enjoyed this terrific event. Field Days was organized by physical education teachers Mr. Casey Russom and Mrs. Katie McCumber. Teachers and staff were on hand to both help and participate. School principal Cathy Brucker was there to award the winners and congratulate all of the students on their efforts. "That's the Topper spirit," she remarked. "Competition, teamwork, and fun!"

~Students Help Stop Hunger Now: Students at the elementary school have been giving up their spare change during the month of May, to assist the Fort Plain Reformed Church with their Stop Hunger Now meal packaging event. Stop Hunger Now is an international hunger relief agency that has been fulfilling its commitment to end world hunger for over 15 years. The meal packaging program began in 2005. Volunteers gather in an assembly-line process to combine rice, soy, dehydrated vegetables, and a flavoring mix including 21 essential vitamins and minerals into small meal packets. The packets cost just .29 each to make. They have a 2 year shelf life and are easy to transport and store. Stop Hunger Now distributes meal packets to school children, vocational training programs, orphanages, and medical clinics. The Fort Plain Reformed Church is partnering with many local organizations to raise money to cover the .29/meal needed for this year's meal packaging event in Fort Plain. Rev. Nancy Ryan came to the school on May 6th and addressed the students about Stop Hunger Now and the local meal packaging event. She asked students to give up a treat each day and donate that money to the event instead, so that school children around the world can have a nutritious meal. Students have been bringing in change and putting it into a collection bucket. They will all be anxious to hear how much they have collected, and how many meals that means for hungry families.

~Coach Phillips Breaks Record: The NYS Public High School Athletic Association announced on May 15th that Fort Plain varsity baseball coach Craig Phillips had broken a 15-year record for most coaching wins in the association's history when he won his 708th game that week. This year marked Coach Phillips' 39th season at the varsity level. During that time, his teams have achieved 20 league titles, 9 sectional championships, 4 regional championships, and the 2007 NYSPHSAA Class C State Championship.

~District Participates in Walk@Lunch Day: National Walk@Lunch Day was established to encourage employees to get out and walk during their lunch break. Studies show that regular walking can be a safe and productive form of exercise for people of all ages. This year, Fort Plain employees engaged in "Walking Wars" - a contest to see which building had the most walkers during the event. Despite some lousy weather, many teachers and staff had the chance to get out and exercise and enjoy some fresh air. The "Walking Wars" winner was the Jr/Sr High School by a 3 to 1 margin! BlueShield of Northeastern NY provided a door prize to the random drawing winner, Lisa Trembley. Great job, everyone!

Girl donates hair to raise funds in memory of great-grandmother

by Elizabeth A. Tomlin

At first glance, Ashlynn Johnson looks like your typical 9-year-old girl, with a wide grin, sparkling blue eyes and an interest in cheerleading, soccer and horses.

But, it's her longer than waist-length, blonde hair that first draws your eye to her—and it is that same lovely, never-before-cut hair that she is now donating to Locks of Love, showing how special she really is.

"Ashlynn asked if she could cut her hair and donate it to Locks of Love about 2 years ago when we started doing the Breast Cancer walks for her great-grandma, Carole Lee," said Ashlynn's mom, Darcie. "She wanted to donate it in her memory."

Although Ashlynn's great-grandmother had passed away exactly 11 months before she was born and she had never met her in person, she had learned about her through her mom.

"My grandmother and I were very close," Darcie recalls. "I talked about her a lot to Ashlynn."

This year, on July 9, which is the 10th anniversary of Carole Lee's passing, Ashlynn will be having her beautiful long hair cut for donation to Locks of Love in her great-grandmother's memory. The hair-cutting event will take place at Gina's in Palatine Bridge.

"To be honest with you, although I'm very proud of her for choosing this — it's such a good cause, I'm a little upset because she's cutting her hair so short. She has such beautiful hair!" Darcie admitted. "But, mostly I'm just very, very proud of her!"

Darcie emphasizes that Ashlynn picked the July 9th date specifically because it is the tenth anniversary of her great grandmother's passing.

In addition, Ashlynn has set herself a goal of raising $500 to donate to the Breast Cancer Fund in Carole Lee's name on that same date.

She is requesting that folks please send her donations for that cause.

Checks must be made out to the Breast Cancer Society, with "Ashlynn Johnson /Carole Lee" noted in the memo. They should be sent to: Ashlynn Johnson c/o Lee Publications, PO Box 121, Palatine Bridge, NY 13428.

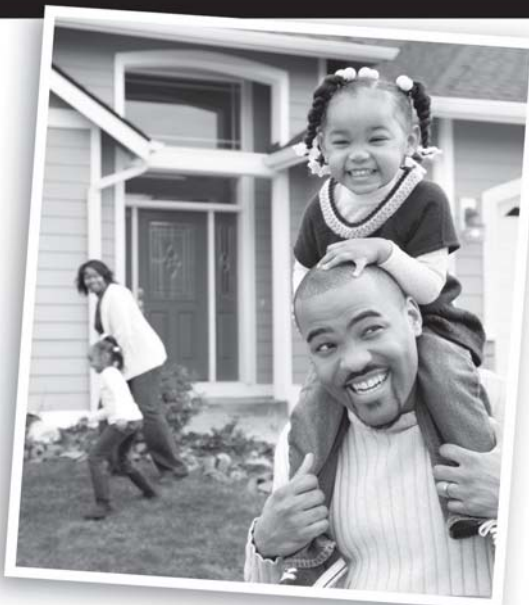

When asked why she's cutting her hair and donating it, Ashlynn grins shyly, shrugs her shoulders and simply replies, "I just want to!"

Whatchamacallits

The plane is considered to be one of the most important woodworking inventions of the last 2,000 years. This tool is used to shape, shave and cut wood-pieces.

The use of planes has declined since wood in many thicknesses, dimensions and profiles has been made readily available to consumers.

The plane’s sole (or face) and handle make it easy to keep the tool on course, allowing users to employ their full strength without sacrificing precision.

There are many different types of planes, designed for specific woodworking tasks. The plane pictured is what is known as a plow plane.

Craftsmen use plow planes for making grooves in wood in order to fit panels and make joints.

Did You Know???

The sixth president of the United States, John Quincy Adams, owned a pet alligator! He kept his unusual pet in the East Room of the White House.

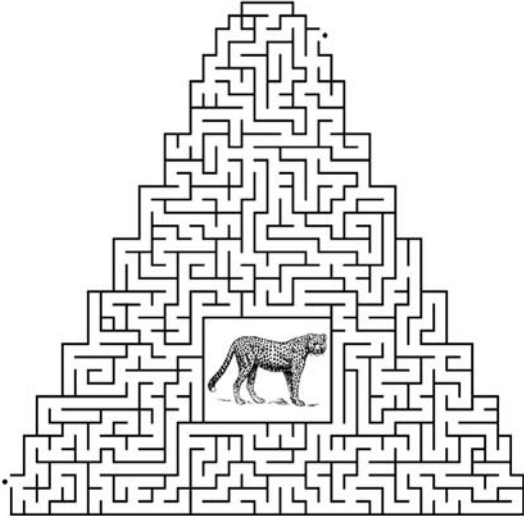

The 40th president, Ronald Reagan, loved jelly beans! The candy company Jelly Belly developed the blueberry flavor for Reagan's presidential inauguration in 1981.

The two-dollar bill is a rare sight, but one of the nation's most well-known presidents — Thomas Jefferson — appears on the face of it!

Beginner's guide to reptiles as pets

Dogs and cats may be the most popular pets, but reptiles have their share of admirers as well. Reptiles can make great pets, and they may be ideal for children or novice pet owners.

Unlike cats or dogs, many reptiles need a very specific environment to thrive. That includes some sort of UV light, a warming stone and particularly hot conditions. Reptiles and amphibians are cold-blooded animals, meaning their body temperatures fluctuate based on the conditions of their environment. They will require an external heating source to stay comfortable.

Certain reptiles may be better for beginners than others. Here is a look at some popular reptilian pets and what is necessary to care for them.

- Bearded dragon: This animal hails from Australia and may grow up to two feet in length, most of which is in the tail. These lizards will need an appropriate housing structure, which should be a 55-gallon tank for the average-sized single male dragon. They require special light bulbs to absorb vitamins. Dragons are omnivorous, so you will have to provide both plant and animal food sources. Even though they come from arid conditions, spray the tank with water each day to provide them with a water source, as they will not drink from a bowl. Dragons are hardy and can endure even if some mistakes in care are made early on.

- Green anole: Also known as the American chameleon, green anoles are another popular starter pet. Anoles are inexpensive, which makes them a great choice for first-time reptile owners. Anoles can be easy to care for if you meet the right requirements. They need a high-humidity environment and daily misting. These reptiles also like to climb, so you will need to prepare the cage accordingly with a tight-fitting lid and a structure they can scale. While a male and female and even two females can be kept together, never put two males together, as they will fight and likely kill each other.

- Gecko: The leopard gecko can be a great lizard for beginners. Thanks to its small size and modest needs, a gecko does not need a large tank to live in. Geckos are also tolerant to handling and can grow accustomed to frequent touching. Keep in mind that geckos are nocturnal, which means they are most active in the evening. Invest in a special reptile light designed for viewing in the dark so that you do not interfere with the animal's sleep-wake cycle. Also, try not to stress or frighten the leopard gecko. It has the ability to drop its tail if feeling threatened, which can put unnecessary stress on the animal.

- Newt: Newts are almost exclusively aquatic or require high-humidity levels. You will need a tank with an area of sloped land for eating and sleeping. Another area should be filled with water for immersion. Newts are generally a pet that should be observed rather than handled, as they have sensitive membranes or toxic skin. Colorful newts can be enjoyable to watch and require little care besides water changes and feeding.

Reptiles can make interesting and relatively maintenance-free pets. People looking for ideal starter pets may want to skip the furry in favor of the scaly.

Is your car road ready for summer?

If your summer vacation plans include a road trip, the last thing you want is to have unexpected car trouble to leave you stranded at the side of the road, ruining all the fun. A pre-trip vehicle check is the best way to be car care aware and ensure that your car is ready to get you to your destination, says the non-profit Car Care Council.

The Car Care Council recommends the following pre-trip checklist before hitting the road this summer:

- Check the brake system and make sure the battery connection is clean, tight and corrosion-free.

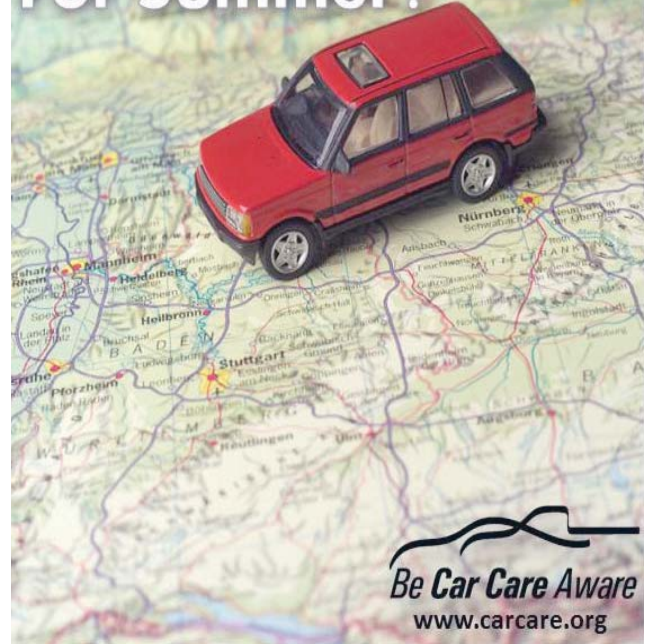

- Check filters and fluids, including engine oil, power steering and brake and transmission, as well as windshield washer solvent and antifreeze/coolant. Dirty air filters can waste gas and cause the engine to lose power.

- Check the hoses and belts that can become cracked, brittle, frayed, loose or show signs of excessive wear. These are critical to the proper functioning of the electrical system, air conditioning, power steering and the cooling system.

- Check the tires, including tire pressure and tread. Underinflated tires reduce a vehicle's fuel economy and uneven wear indicates a need for wheel alignment. Tires should also be checked for bulges and bald spots.

- Check that the gas cap is not damaged, loose or missing to prevent gas from spilling or evaporating.

- Order a free copy of the Car Care Council's popular Car Care Guide for the glove box at www.carcare.org/car-care-guide. This 60-page booklet is available in both English and Spanish.

"Taking steps to have auto repairs performed before long distance driving this summer will not only give you peace of mind, but will also help avoid the inconvenience and potential safety hazards of breaking down when you're miles from home," said Rich White, executive director, Car Care Council.

The Car Care Council's free personalized schedule and email reminder service is a simple way to help you take better care of your vehicle this summer and throughout the year. It is an easy-to-use resource designed to help you drive smart, save money and make informed decisions.

The Car Care Council is the source of information for the "Be Car Care Aware" consumer education campaign promoting the benefits of regular vehicle care, maintenance and repair to consumers. For a copy of the council's Car Care Guide, which is now available electronically, or for more information, visit www.carcare.org.

Meeting buyer demands in a seller's market: Top trends for 2014

(BPT) — With many real estate industry watchers predicting 2014 will be a seller's market, you may think you won't need to do much to sell your home this spring. Not so fast, while more buyers are likely to be competing for homes, that doesn't mean they're willing to settle for less than perfect. In fact, coming out of the real estate crash of a few years ago, buyers have learned the importance of getting the maximum value for their home investment.

While home prices are expected to rise in 2014, buyers continue to have high expectations. Homes that meet buyers, lists of "must-haves" and "would-love-to-have" features will be positioned to sell more quickly and closer to, or above, list price, experts say.

So what are homebuyers looking for in 2014?

Whole-home, beautiful energy efficient features

In the earliest days of the efficiency trend, many buyers would have settled for a house that reduced heating and cooling costs through good insulation, or cut electricity bills with energy-sipping appliances. Modern buyers, however, are interested in homes that take a holistic approach to energy efficiency. That means supplementing energy savings with more thoughtful features like daylighting and natural ventilation through energy-efficient skylights, using solar-powered water heaters, and employing intelligent controls for skylights, other lighting and heating/cooling systems.

Buyers want energy-efficient upgrades that also offer high aesthetic appeal in addition to functionality, making features like ENERGY STAR-qualified skylights particularly popular. In fact, 55 percent of homebuyers in a National Association of Home Builder's survey said skylights are desirable or essential.

Smarter size and space

While buyers will always look to get the most bang for their buck, many are deciding that "bang" does not necessarily mean "bigger." The great recession saw many families downsize into smaller homes, with more manageable mortgages. Even with the economy moving again, many homeowners have found they like the efficiency and utility of smaller, more purposeful spaces.

The functionality of a room is now as important as its size. Buyers will continue to embrace rooms that make the most of the space available, such as compact kitchens that maximize storage, smaller bathrooms that optimize lighting efficiency and privacy, while saving wall space through use of skylights, and open rooms that serve multiple purposes.

Aging-in-place potential

As more baby boomers approach and enter their golden years, homebuyers are looking toward the future and seeking homes that offer the potential of allowing them to age in place. In demand are home features that not only look good now (such as an open floor plan or larger bathroom) but that can be easily adapted for older occupants who may face challenges with mobility, vision and other age-related issues.

A range of home features fit the bill, including ground-floor bedrooms, ample natural lighting to enhance vision, open floor plans that minimize obstacles to mobility, larger bathrooms that can easily be fitted with grab bars, kitchens with age-friendly features such as touch faucets, and smaller yards with lower maintenance requirements.

While higher demand and less inventory are likely to make 2014 a better year for sellers than buyers, if you're selling your home, knowing what buyers are looking for can help ensure a faster, more rewarding sale, in any market.

Got a great wedding theme? Tips for carrying it throughout your big day

(BPT) — What does the concept of a wedding theme mean to you? Do you think it's just about the colors you choose for your bouquet and bridesmaid gowns? Or do you think of it as something grander — your personalized stamp that should shine through every aspect of your big day?

“Even the most romantic, unique theme can fail to live up to its potential if you only incorporate it into one or two aspects of your wedding,” says Robin Brockelsby, founder of Creative Coverings, one of the largest nationwide linen rental and sales companies. “Truly successful themes grace everything your guests do, see and touch throughout your wedding and reception.”

As you're planning your wedding, keep these theme-building tips in mind:

- Choose a theme and colors that you love enough to invest some creativity in. While each season, certain colors emerge as “hot” choices for weddings, avoid picking a color or theme just because it's trendy. Instead, focus on ideas that truly speak to your personality.

- Picking a wedding color doesn't mean you have to be limited to just one shade. For example, Brocklesby points out, purple is a trending color for weddings this year, and you can incorporate variances of it throughout your wedding. “Lighter shades like lavender and lilac are more feminine and sensitive, creating a mood of romance,” she says. “They're a great choice for bridesmaids' gowns.” Add interest to the color theme by using darker shades like plum or deep purples for table linens and even lighting elements. “Using these darker shades can create an impression of magic, fantasy or extravagance,” Brocklesby says.

- If you do choose a trending color, consider renting accessories such as linens, chair covers and decorations. Rental stores keep track of what's trendy, too, and are more likely to have items in the season's hottest colors. Often, it's easier to rent what you need than to hunt through multiple stores trying to purchase items.

- When choosing a theme, be sure to consider if it really works with that gown you fell in love with and simply must have. For example, a vintage theme cries out for a vintage gown and a dress that is too contemporary will clash with the theme. Tuxedos for groomsmen and stiletto heels for bridesmaids aren't likely to work well with a beach theme.

- Set the stage for your wedding with themed invitations. Online resources make it easy to find and customize wedding invitations to fit virtually any theme, from rustic to floral, country to contemporary. Themed invitations are also a great way to clue guests in to what they can expect on your special day.

- Choose linens, tableware and furniture that complement your theme. If the venue you've booked doesn't have items that are just right, look into renting them. Renting wedding items provide brides access to a wider range of items that can fulfill virtually any theme, giving you greater flexibility and choice. Plus, renting can save you money.

- Use creative favors to underscore your theme. For example, luggage tags in the shape of flip flops make adorable wedding favors. Or, for your outdoor wedding with a picnic theme, miniature picnic baskets filled with gourmet chocolates will remind guests of your theme long after the reception ends.

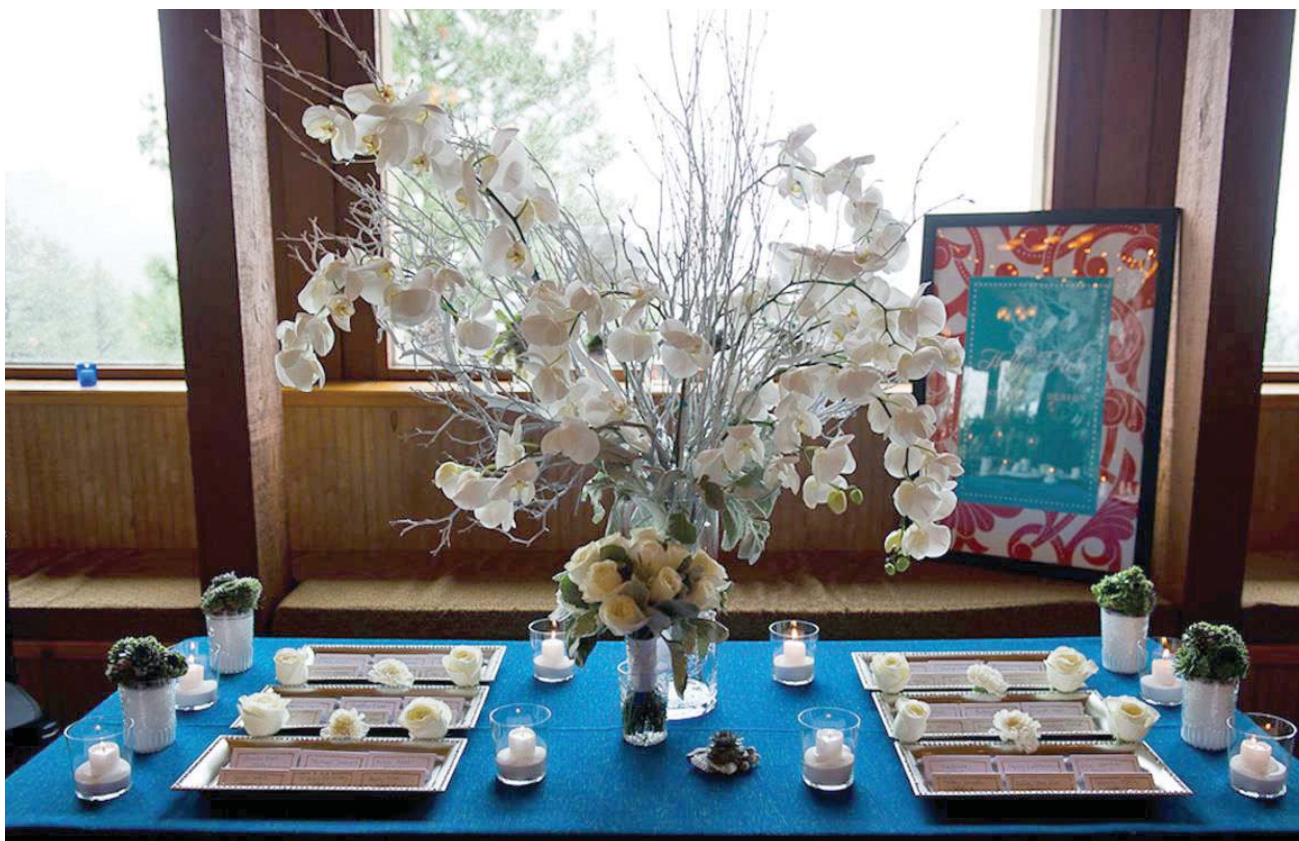

- Remember to make music match your theme. Classical music will complement a sophisticated, elegant wedding as you walk down the aisle, but you might want to leave the hip-hop for the reception. For a holiday wedding, traditional holiday music creates a timely and festive atmosphere that celebrates the season and your nuptials at the same time.

- Food and how you present it can also play into your theme. Want a circus-themed wedding? Rent a popcorn maker or cotton-candy machine and serve to guests in wax paper bags during the reception. Going for a more elegant, traditional theme? Silver chafing dishes are classic musts.

Whatever theme you choose, all elements of your wedding should harmoniously work together to proclaim your theme. A great theme can turn any wedding into a memorable experience that guests will talk about for years to come.

Choose a theme and colors that you love enough to invest some creativity in.

Stylize your space with simple, smart buys and updates

(BPT) — Giving your home a stylish update can sometimes seem like a daunting and expensive task. But, it's actually easier than ever with the right mindset and design inspiration. Everyday items can easily be up-cycled while a couple of inexpensive projects can be completed for a quick style revamp of your space on almost any budget. Follow these tips to freshen up your home from the outside in and you'll be amazed at the impact.

Plant some pizzazz

The first thing people notice about your house is the landscaping and overall curb appeal. Try installing flowerboxes or even planting shrubs and trees around your home. According to the Arbor Day Foundation, planting a tree can increase your home's value, cut energy costs and be beneficial to your family's health. Buying a new tree is a small investment and takes just a few hours to plant. For added color, consider planting some perennial flowers, such as day lilies, tulips and roses — which bloom every year. Painting or stenciling inexpensive planter boxes can give them a higher-end look and just the right touches of color to your space.

Enhance your entrance

Adding some colorful accents to your home's exterior is a simple way to make a style statement and enhance your home's curb appeal. Many DIY experts agree that you don't need to repaint your entire home's exterior — just a few selective color additions can make an enormous impact. A fresh coat of paint on the front door can go a long way. A can of black, oil-rubbed bronze or brushed nickel spray paint can be used to update metal house numbers, railings and light fixtures quickly, and for a very low investment. If your front porch is rather dim, consider shopping at a flea market or resale shop for a new light fixture to brighten up the space. LED bulbs can be used for adding more light and energy savings. New and old pieces can all be painted to match or left as is for a more rustic and eclectic feel.

Step into style

The key to creating a great first impression as guests enter your house is the flooring. Hardwood and tile are common and classic looks for entryways and foyers but aren't always within budget. Flooring companies now have options that look and feel just like the real thing but cost much less — and don't require professional installation or complicated maintenance routines.

Wow your walls

Painting is the easiest way to make a dramatic, fairly inexpensive and instant impact on any room. Consider areas of your home that'll get the most notice, like your dining room, kitchen, guest bath, foyer and even guest bedrooms. An even quicker project is just painting one wall as an accent wall. This will create a new focal point for the room that can be easily achieved by going a shade darker, brighter or complementing the existing wall color.

Easy, last minute tricks

If you're looking to refresh your kitchen, consider giving the cabinets some new hardware. Is storage space tight and cabinets are out of your budget? Mount some open shelving. New runners add interest to a long hallway while fun, hanging art keeps the space trendy. Other trendy accessories include wall sconces, throw pillows and photo frame wall galleries.

Remember, small projects pay off — you'll be enjoying your new, low cost but big impact look for years to come without having to fret about paying any large project costs.

Inexpensive projects can be completed for a quick style revamp of your space on almost any budget.
